VANCOUVER BLANKETED BY 4 INCHES OF SNOW

VANCOUVER (CP)—The Greater Vancouver area slithered through its first major snowfall of the season today.

More than four inches of fresh snow blanketed the city and surrounding areas reported up to seven inches.

Motorists reported driving hazardous on streets made slippery by wet snow. But no serious accidents were reported.

A two-mile-long jam up of cars was caused by slippery streets in New Westminster.

Two Ships Sunk, 17 Lives Lost

LONDON (AP)—Gales raging around Britain and Ireland were believed today to have sunk at least two small ships with the loss of 17 lives.

But a third vessel, missing for a week and presumed lost, turned up safe with its crew of nine.

Small shipping headed for port as wind gusts up to 70 miles an hour whipped the waters of the North Sea, Irish Sea and English Channel.

The French motor trawler Matelot, last heard of nearly two weeks ago, was given up for lost with her crew of 12 on a trip from Lorient to the Irish Sea fishing grounds. Also believed sunk was the 115-ton Belgian motor trawler Zeebrugge, missing with five aboard.

The 450-ton Dutch motor coaster Ellewoutsdijk, missing with a crew of nine since last Wednesday while en route from Belfast to Westport, Ireland, turned up safely in Ireland.

Overnight trains from London to Glasgow were delayed by deep floodwaters around the Scottish city of Dumfries. Elsewhere in Scotland snow-plows bucked drifts up to 10 feet deep.

West Yields to Soviet On A-Test Talks Move

GENEVA (AP)—The United States and Britain formally agreed today to abandon the three-power nuclear test-ban talks and refer the issue to the disarmament negotiations expected to open in Geneva next March.

Charles Stille of the United States and Britain's Sir Michael Wright announced their agreement to the Soviet demand at the 350th session of the nuclear conference which resumed here after a Christmas recess.

Western conference sources said the two negotiators offered the transfer of the test-ban talks in view of the Soviet Union's adamant refusal even to discuss a Western draft test-ban treaty providing international controls.

The two powers, however, rejected the Soviet plan for an uncontrolled moratorium on nuclear weapons testing, submitted by the Russians two months ago.

The plan made no provisions for international test-ban controls demanded by the U.S. and Britain.

EXAMINE ISSUE
"The Western delegations," a joint British-American statement issued today "made it clear that they would agree to examine the nuclear test-ban issue in the context of disarmament negotiations only because the Soviet government has insisted that it will only discuss international controls in this context."

"Once disarmament negotiations have resumed, the United States and Britain will work for the conclusion of a nuclear test-ban treaty as a matter of highest priority."

Western conference sources said Russian negotiator Semyon Tsarapkin told the western delegates he would submit the British-American proposal to his government. He made no preliminary reply. The next meeting was set for Friday.

The Western negotiators were hoping to have Moscow's formal answer by then, but Tsarapkin cautioned it might take longer.

Indonesia Threatens Revenge

JAKARTA (Reuters)—Indonesia vowed today to avenge the sinking of a motor torpedo boat by The Netherlands Monday night "on the high seas."

The vessel went to the bottom in an hour-long engagement between Indonesian and Dutch navy ships off the south coast of Indonesian-claimed, Dutch-ruled West New Guinea.

The naval engagement appeared today to have set back considerably chances for a negotiated settlement of Indonesia's claim to the island territory.

Indonesia said it now would be extremely difficult to bring about talks to negotiate the issue.

The Netherlands reiterated it was ready to negotiate unconditionally but announced it would beef up its forces and repel any further "unprovoked attack" by Indonesia, which has vowed to "liberate" West New Guinea.

An official Indonesian statement said: "The Indonesian government will immediately take measures to avenge these Dutch assaults."

ATTACK AT SEA?
Maj.-Gen. Aani, a member of the operations staff for West Irian—the Indonesian name for West New Guinea—said the torpedo vessels were patrolling the high seas around the Indonesian-owned Aru Islands, which lie between West New Guinea and Australia, when attacked by a Dutch destroyer, frigate and planes.

Aani denied Dutch claims that the torpedo boat squadron was attempting an invasion of the disputed territory. If the Indonesians were attacking, he said, they would have used ships larger than torpedo boats.

Aani said Indonesia would step up sea and air patrols around West New Guinea.

The Dutch navy said in a statement that survivors and material picked up from the boat that was sunk indicated the vessel intended to put landing forces ashore.

REJECTS BID
Pro-Western Premier Prince Boun Oum today turned down an appeal by the co-chairman of the 14-nation Laos conference to attend a plenary session in Geneva and endorse the work of the parity to date.

Boun Oum's refusal further dashes hopes for a successful compromise in the Laos crisis.

Australia Alert?
CANNBERRA (Reuters)—The possibility of an alert for Australian armed forces loomed today in the wake of the naval clash Monday between Dutch and Indonesian ships of New Guinea.

The question was entered on the agenda for a session of the Australian cabinet.

Looks like we're goin' t' hev Indonesia ad nausea.

125 Men Trapped By Fire

MELBOURNE (Reuters)—Some 125 firefighters were reported trapped today as Australian forest fires raged out of control in an arc of 100 miles north and northeast of here.

One group of 100 was trapped at Christmas Hill, near the vacation resort of Healesville, and 25 at Haldrup, a town whose inhabitants were evacuated Monday night.

Earlier today, four persons—a man, a woman and two children—were found burned to death at a roadside, in the blaze area.

The fires, racing before a 50-mile-an-hour wind, were sweeping across hilltops north of Mount Dandenong, 30 miles east of here. Police evacuated the villages of Woori Yallock and Launching Place in their path.

All available firefighting equipment was rushed to the area where police reports said dense clouds of smoke blotted out the sun.

At least 48 houses have been destroyed in the fires which have been burning for 48 hours.

Businessmen Of U.K. Spy Says Ex-Red

LONDON (Reuters)—A man described as a former lieutenant in the East German spy service said in a television interview Monday night that many businessmen in London are working as agents for East Germany.

The man, who appeared on a program produced by the BBC, said the East German spy service keeps dossiers on many Britons likely to attend trade fairs behind the Iron Curtain.

Attempts are frequently made to induce businessmen to attend fairs such as the Leipzig Trade Fair to work for the Communists, he said.

If a man is known to be short of money an East German agent will approach him and offer him money, he said. And if he is known to have Communist sympathies an appeal to his political beliefs is made.

In Ottawa, Finance Minister Fleming reserved detailed comment until he studies the agreement in detail, but he said Canada may benefit indirectly.

SPACE SHIP A-BLAST IN 1908

Science Fiction or Fact?

OTTAWA (CP)—A magazine published by the Soviet Embassy says hundreds of young Russian scientists and engineers support a theory that a spaceship crashed in Siberia in 1908, touching off a nuclear explosion.

The theory is advanced as the explanation for a gigantic blast which occurred in Central Siberia June 30, 1908, and which has never been explained. The shock was recorded on earthquake instruments around the world.

An article in the current issue of Soviet Union Today, a slick-paper monthly, says the blast was generally blamed on a meteorite but that six expeditions to the site failed to turn up any of the usual evidence of a meteorite's fall.

The first party to reach the scene reported that trees lay in clumps, set in neat rows radiating 30 miles from the centre of the explosion. Yet at the blast point all the charred trees remained upright.

QUICK KAYO IN BATTLE OF MOOSE VS CABOOSE

JASPER, Alta. (CP)—A huge bull moose charged a Canadian National Railways freight late Monday and derailed the caboose at the end of a 59-car westbound train, railway officials said in Jasper today.

The incident occurred between Guilford, B.C., and Prince George. Guilford is 173 miles west of Jasper.

Officials said the moose was killed. None of the crew was injured, but the freight was delayed until equipment arrived at the scene and loaded the caboose back on the tracks.

20% Tariff Cut Agreed

BRUSSELS (Times News Services)—The United States and the European Common Market have reached agreement on a mutual 20-per-cent reduction on tariffs on their industrial products and on some agricultural products, a Common Market spokesman announced tonight.

Agreements on industrial products had been generally predicted but any agricultural tariffs had been expected to be deferred until later talks.

The treaty resulting from this agreement will be signed within a few days by the permanent representatives of the U.S. and the ECM in Geneva.

NO DETAILS

In accordance with General Agreement on Tariff and Trade regulations, no details of the agreement will be made public before the treaty has been signed.

At a news conference held in Brussels ECM headquarters immediately after the four-day talks ended, it was pointed out that the agricultural part of the deal was "perhaps the most difficult, but also the most important."

It was stressed that negotiations on tariff cuts under GATT regulations with the United States were the most important from the ECM point of view, as the United States is the most prominent big trading partner of the Common Market.

"The negotiations covered an enormous mass of products which play a role of paramount importance in the economic life of the two parties," the spokesman said.

"If we had not reached this agreement the consequences would have been disastrous," he added.

In Ottawa, Finance Minister Fleming reserved detailed comment until he studies the agreement in detail, but he said Canada may benefit indirectly.

Gizenga's Troops Blamed

(Times News Services)
LEOPOLDVILLE

—Congo Premier Cyrille Adoula said today he had received reports that 11 white missionaries and seven African Roman Catholic nuns had been massacred by troops loyal to Stanleyville strongman Antoine Gizenga.

Adoula also announced that he had fired Gizenga as vice-premier of the central Congo government.

Adoula said the reports said the massacre was carried out by troops led by Col. Joseph Fakassa, a cousin of the pro-Communist Gizenga.

IN KATANGA

A Belgian radio broadcast in Brussels said a report from Bukavu, Kivu province, said the Stanleyville troops killed the missionaries in Kongo, in north Katanga province.

On New Year's Day, Katanga President Moise Tshombe said his troops had been forced to pull out of Kongo in the face of heavy pressure from United Nations and central government forces.

But later reports indicated these attacking troops were Gizenga's men, and not those of the central government.

A dispatch from an Associated Press correspondent at Bukavu, said missionaries who escaped the violence reported the bodies of the 18 were recovered, the dispatch said.

Another missionary was taken away and has not been heard from since.

A great number of persons in the Negro population of Kongo were also reported to have been killed.

No Response By Bennett

OTTAWA (CP)—Finance Minister Fleming said today he has had no response from Premier Bennett of British Columbia to his suggestion that another date be set for a meeting on financing the Columbia River power development.

Premier Bennett and Attorney-General Robert Bonner both left Victoria last Thursday, bound for eastern Canada.

Mr. Bennett said he had a business appointment in Toronto on the Friday, but declined to state the nature of the business.

However, they both apparently stayed in the east over the weekend, and may have gone on to Ottawa. Neither one is expected in Victoria again until Thursday.

Continuing inclement weather made itself felt in at least two disparate areas—crime and legislation. There was none of either.

For three days, no police court was held, as not even a drunk sleeping it off in the snow was apprehended.

As for legislation, on this day, with the temperature hovering around the 18 mark, only the Hon. member from Nanaimo turned up at the house. Even Mr. Speaker was absent.

The barkentine W. B. Scranion dropped anchor in the Outer Harbor, 14 days out of San Francisco. She spent five days in the Straits, and her master, a Capt. Brown, reported sighting two other barks in the Straits, one of which he presumed to be ashore, but didn't know for sure.

Dust free Nanaimo coal was offered at $10 a ton, free delivery.

VANCOUVER—Alderman Earle Adams says the staff at city hall "is always huddled around discussing last night's party."

"The human waste," he said, "makes me sick." Ald. Adams voiced his complaint after being named by Mayor Tom Alsbury to the city's budget-cutting committee for 1962.

Adams said of four-man, road-working crews: "One is the foreman and he's like a lance-corporal in the army. He does nothing. Another stands and watches traffic, another stands and smokes, and the fourth is the only one working."

At City Hall, he said, employees are taking two coffee breaks a day totalling 30 minutes and they should be getting only one totalling 20 minutes.

The alderman said it probably happens in most businesses, but there is too much standing around.

MILWAUKEE, Wis. (UPI)—E. A. von Frankenberg won acquittal on a concealed weapons charge Monday when he explained the pistol found in his car was a Civil War cap and ball model he carries to show friends. County Judge Christ T. Seraphim found him guilty of disorderly conduct.

LEICESTER—The widow of the youngest Second World War winner of the Victoria Cross—Britain's highest award for bravery—has turned down a $5,000 offer by an American for the medal because she does not want it to leave the country.

Mrs. Janet Hannah, widow of Sgt. John Hannah, advertised the coveted medal for sale to obtain money for the education of her children and to establish herself in a hairdressing business.

"It is the memory that counts, not a piece of metal," said the 40-year-old Mrs. Hannah.

She said she will accept about $2,800 for the medal to share among her three daughters and herself, but she will not take the $5,000 offer by a New York man.

Her husband was 18 when he put out a fire in a bomber over Holland with his bare hands. He died of tuberculosis in 1947.

VANCOUVER—Mrs. Rosa Connor, 81, was acquitted Monday on a charge of puncturing car tires near her home with a screwdriver.

Magistrate Les Bewley said he was convinced the woman was strong enough to puncture the tires but said the evidence was not consistent with guilt.

He ordered Policewoman Leslie Shapko to puncture a tire in court. The policewoman, after the demonstration, said it took "considerable force."

Police said they went to the woman's home and coated a screwdriver with fluorescent paste. A few days later when there was another rash of tire puncturings, fluorescent traces were found on the tires.

BATLEY, Eng.—Bruce, a 10-week-old pup with an appetite for the unusual, went to a veterinary hospital Monday suffering acute indigestion.

In his stomach were found two diamond rings, two lengths of leather harness, several lumps of coal and wood, a half-inch-long magnet, three metal springs, a metal badge, a harness buckle, a metal carton lid and an inch-long nail.

"Easily a national record," said veterinarian William Hurst.

Bruce is recovering on a diet of bread and milk.

CRANSTON, R.I.—A burglar who tempers crime with consideration of family problems is being sought by Cranston police.

He broke into Vincent di Falco's home Sunday and stole $90.

The loot came from the family's budget system and the thief conducted his peccadillo thus: From the rent envelope he took $20, left $25; the insurance envelope lost $10 but $15 was left.

Apparently he had no patience with Di Falco's dreams of owning an automobile. From the envelope containing $68 towards a new car he took $60.

WEATHER GOES METRIC

Epoch-Making Move Started in Britain

LONDON (AP)—Fifty million Britons embarked Sunday night on a gigantic brainwashing operation.

Its aim is to get them to discard their centuries-old system of weights-and measures—and the habits of thought and speech that go with them—and embrace instead the continental decimal system.

As its first field for psychological education the government has chosen the weather. At midnight the meteorological office and weathermen on the BBC started using the centigrade scale.

Britain so far has been Fahrenheit scale. Now it is doomed. Fahrenheit figures will be given alongside centigrade figures until the public latitudes on to the usurper and, then, says the weather bureau, Fahrenheit will be dropped.

MORE CHANGES

More changes are in store. A government move is under way to discard pounds, shillings and pence and adopt a decimal currency. A committee has been set up to discover how—and not whether—the change shall be made.

Official committees have for more than a century been recommending a switch to the metric system in entirety. But governments so far have been wary of persuading voters to walk kilometers instead of miles and to drink litres instead of pints.

Now, with Britain moving toward the European Common Market—and manufacturers handicapped by a domestic market using measures no one else understands, it seems the time for action is coming.

If the centigrade scale and decimal coinage go down smoothly, politicians believe the change in weights and measures will be inevitable.

OTTAWA (CP)—Leaders of about 30 unions are being called to Ottawa next month to plan a new, all-out drive to organize the unorganized workers of the technological era.

Uprising Quelled

CARACAS, Venezuela (AP)—An officer attempted to start an uprising in a military barracks at dawn Monday but failed to win the support of troops, authoritative sources said Monday night. The officer was arrested.

BROKE AWAY

He said later, while Howe was being held by police, he broke away from them and struck him again. He suffered bruises, a black eye and internal cheek injuries.

"I was having an argument with my wife, I didn't think it was any of Mr. Begg's business," Howe told Magistrate Ooster.

"As a decent citizen he was doing a perfectly proper thing," replied the magistrate.

He placed Howe on bond of $100 to be of good behaviour Mr. Begg said he ran out of for six months.

Wife Saves Husband From Jail Sentence

John Howe, 1323 Haultain, was saved from a jail term in city police court Monday because of a plea by his wife.

Howe was fined $50 by Magistrate William Ooster after he pleaded guilty to assaulting "a decent citizen," causing actual bodily harm.

RATED JAIL

The magistrate told Howe his actions rated a jail term because "there is no regret."

"It is fortunate you have a loving and forgiving wife. I commend to you to treat her the way she treats you," he said.

The citizen, J. R. Begg, 2742 Scott, complained he was assaulted when he tried to stop Howe from beating his wife. $100 to be of good behaviour Mr. Begg said he ran out of for six months.

Boy Suspect In School Fire, 95 Perished

CHICAGO (UPI)—A 13-year-old boy who has admitted to suburban police he set a number of other fires today was considered a prime suspect in the Our Lady of the Angels School fire which claimed 95 lives three years ago.

Sgt. Drew Brown of the Chicago police bomb and arson squad said he considered the youth the "best suspect so far" in the Dec. 1, 1958, school fire.

Brown said he was told by suburban Cicero police the youth was a student at Our Lady of the Angels at the time of the blaze.

Brown said he listened to a tape recorded conversation in which the boy told Cicero police of setting a number of school fires.

CHICAGO CLAIMED—The Chicago Tribune reported in a copyrighted story the boy confessed setting the school fire during an examination by a private lie detector.

The Tribune said information about the confession was given yesterday to Family Court Judge Alfred J. Cilella.

LOVES SIRENS

The boy, who told Cicero police he "loves fire sirens" and "loves to watch fire trucks," said he received permission to go to the washroom and instead went to the school basement, where he dropped lighted matches into a trash container by a stairwell at the school.

The trash containers had been pinpointed as the fire source the day after the blaze which killed 92 children and three nuns. A number of boys who carried cans of trash to the area 12 minutes before the first alarm was turned in at 2:42 p.m. were questioned on the theory that one might have accidentally set the fire.

The Tribune said the boy, now an eighth grader at a west suburban school, has confessed setting at least a dozen fires, the first when he was five years old.

The newspaper said the boy told authorities he enjoyed riding his bicycle past garbage cans and dropping lighted matches in them so they would "go up like a rocket." The boy said he hated school.

Trujillo's Daughters Seek Money

MONTREAL (CP)—Two daughters of Rafael Trujillo, long-time dictator of the Dominican Republic assassinated last May, are seeking a court order to obtain $214,000 in U.S. currency on deposit in a Montreal bank.

The sisters, Mrs. Cesar Elsa Morales, and Mrs. Bolivar Odete de Pena, in exile in Florida, were not present when the action was filed Monday in Montreal Superior Court.

The action claims the Trujillos deposited $114,917 and $99,000 in two separate joint accounts last November at a Montreal branch of the Bank of Nova Scotia.

They are seeking a judge's order to force the bank to honor four cheques drawn last December on the accounts. Two of the cheques were for $50,000 each and a third for $14,900, all drawn in Elsa Morales' name.

The fourth, for $99,000, was payable to the de Penas. They are asking that the amounts be paid in U.S. currency or the Canadian equivalent and the due interest from last Dec. 19.

Long-Lost Lawyer Draws Suspension

VANCOUVER (CP)—A Vancouver lawyer who disappeared for almost two months has been suspended from practice by the discipline committee of the Law Society of British Columbia.

Ian Sutherland disappeared after his car was found Oct. 10 in Roosevelt Lake, about 75 miles west of Spokane, Wash., and turned up in Vancouver just before Christmas. He said when he returned he had only a vague recollection of where he had been or what he had done.

PARENT-TEACHER BODY SAYS ART NEGLECTED

VANCOUVER (CP)—The British Columbia Parent-Teacher Federation says it is "regrettable" that less emphasis is being put on music, art and drama in schools in the province.

In a letter to Education Minister Peterson, released at a school trustees meeting Monday night, federation secretary Mrs. Grace Allan said:

"At a time when we are so concerned with fostering Canadian culture, and when we support it with Canada Council grants at the federal level, it seems regrettable that B.C. schools should be curtailing and lessening the emphasis on the arts."

The education department plans to change the school curriculum to give more time for the three "r's" and less to art, music and drama.

PUBLIC LOST $400,000

Lawyer, Brokers In Fraud Charge

NEW YORK (AP)—A lawyer, four brokers and an over-the-counter brokerage firm were indicted Monday by a federal grand jury on charges of conspiracy to violate the Securities Act of 1933 in the sale of more than 600,000 shares of the unregistered stock of Canuba Manganese Mines, Limited, a Canadian corporation.

U.S. Attorney Robert M. Morgenthau said that as a result of the conspiracy, the public was defrauded of approximately $400,000. He said the conspiracy existed between 1956 and this year.

All of the defendants but Kanarek were previously indicted three times in the last six months on other stock sale violations involving two other Canadian stocks, American Leduc and Jeannette Minerals.

Morgenthau said that the securities and exchange commission recently began proceedings against the Winston firm to revoke its registration as a broker-dealer.

He said Canuba Manganese Mines was organized in 1953 for the development of manganese and copper properties in Cuba but at present is not in business and has no assets.

Assistant United States Attorney Thomas J. Cahill, who presented the case to the grand jury, said that Canuba was traded on the Canadian Stock Exchange at Montreal and its price ranged from $1.40 to $1.42 a share.

The defendants are scheduled to plead to the charges January 23. If convicted, each of the individuals could receive a maximum five-year sentence and they and the corporation could be fined $10,000.

Carl Uteck, 40, of Thornhill, an employee of the company and owner of several race horses, was the first person arrested. He faces charges of fraud and theft.

Also held on fraud charges are Alexander Stoyanoff, 28, a club steward, of Toronto; Floyd J. Pratt, 43, real estate salesman of nearby Richmond Hill; William Millar, 44, car salesman, Toronto; and Daniel MacDonald, 34, Preston Lake. Police said more arrests are pending.

Afro-Soviet Bloc Attacks Portugal

UNITED NATIONS (CP)—no part in discussions of Portugal faced bitter attacks from the Communist and Afro-Soviet bloc today as opponents in a heated address, Garin accused the UN of bias and described the debate as "mischievously designed, from which only evil can come to Angola and to this organization itself."

Poland, co-sponsor with Bulgaria of a resolution calling on the Security Council to consider harsh penalties against the Lisbon government, was due to take the floor as the 104-country General Assembly's debate on Angola went into its second day.

The former French Congo also was expected to blast Portugal's administration of Angola and to demand freedom for the West African territory. Informed sources expressed belief that the African group would not seek penalties against Portugal but would limit its proposal to a call for condemnation and a demand for Angola's independence.

CITIZENS HURL IRONS INTO CENTENNIAL FIRE

By JOHN BASSETT

Victoria is already 16 days into its centennial year and still lacks a clear picture of what form the celebrations will take.

So far civic and municipal officials, historians and tourist boosters have dipped their oars into the controversial waters surrounding the centennial program.

But little has been heard from the ordinary citizen who will foot the bill for the ball.

A Times survey shows the people have some irons of their own to toss in the fire along with some worthwhile suggestions.

Mrs. Gertrude Higham, 860 Short: "Why can't everyone pull together; it's really a shame so much bickering has gone on. A worthwhile program might already have been arranged had there been a little cohesion."

Twenty-year-old Lynette Bruce, 911 McNaughton, said: "There's nothing too exciting planned. I think the young person should have been considered more. Perhaps a series of centennial dances would be fun."

Mrs. Sam Thompson, 258 Crease Avenue, believed the program below par because the big companies had not contributed to it in a large degree.

"They take a lot of money out of Victoria," she said, "they should put some in when a thing like centenary occurs."

Mrs. Thompson said the May 24th parade should be turned into a gala centennial parade, similar to Grey Cup or Rose Bowl exhibitions.

'Afraid They Wouldn't Go for It'

This idea was taken a step farther by Linda Scales, 916 Russell, who would like to see a prolonged three or four-day affair "similar to the Mardi Gras," with parades and dancing in the streets.

"I'm afraid Victoria would never go for it though," she sighed.

Bob Shanks, 2801 Douglas, said, "Generally, the outlook for a thriving centenary is very dull."

According to Gwen Scott, 977 Transit Road, the centenary of a business and should be treated as such.

"The organization should have been fully completed six months ago."

She said a minimum of vision and imagination had been shown in the anniversary's planning.

A debatable suggestion was put forward by Frank Russell, 226 Regina, which he felt would solve a bundle of problems.

"Lack of co-ordination would have been nonexistent if a professional promoter, with clearly defined limits of power had been hired. Even if it cost $50,000 it would have paid off," Mr. Russell said.

"The lack of advance planning and the repetition of a number of annual events just redressed in centennial garb have hurt the chances of a successful year," says Andy Pitkethly, 1975 Lee Avenue.

Mr. Pitkethly also feels the outlying municipalities have not been helping enough.

'More Stress on Early Victoria'

Harry Smith, 1420 Denman, offered two suggestions to the centennial powers that be.

"Extensive advertising to let people know exactly what is going on is necessary," said the retired 76-year-old.

"And I would also like to see more stress on early Victoria history, and the men who created it," added Mr. Smith.

"We owe them a great debt." Not all comments condemned the work of the centennial planners. A sprinkling of persons questioned looked to the brighter side of things.

"Many of the events should be a lot of fun for Victorians, although they may not attract too many other people," said Mrs. Jean Nicholson, 1529 Monterey.

A retired banker from the Prairies, W. H. Beacon, 2263 Neil Street, felt "it's going to be all right". He specifically pointed out the 100-mile bicycle race and the RCMP musical ride as outstanding features.

Bob Kirker, 1668 Derby Road, said: "I think they've got a pretty good itinerary lined up. I am especially looking forward to the RCMP musical ride.

"They'll probably add more events before they're through," added Mr. Kirker optimistically.

Dolena Blades, 2090 Chaucoer, said the centenary can't help but be a success, with one qualification however.

"It will serve as a restful finish to a hectic Seattle's World Fair for many people. World Fair for many people, if there's enough accommodation."

Charles Lowe, 1000 Greenridge Crescent, thought plans are coming along in fine fashion.

"By the beginning of the summer there should be a good program," he said, "even though there's not too much now."

Darlene Taylor, 2940 Cumberland, spoke the sentiments of many persons interviewed but not quoted here.

Said Miss Taylor, "As of yet I haven't taken too much notice of it." But she added: "I'm sure I will when spring rolls around."

LOWEST UNEMPLOYMENT RATE SINCE 1956

Winter Job Picture Brighter

OTTAWA (CP)—Unemployment in Canada at mid-December was 413,000, an increase of 64,000 from mid-November but 115,000 under the record total a year earlier, the Dominion Bureau of Statistics reported today.

The December jobless total represented 6.4 per cent of the labor force, the lowest December unemployment rate since 1956. The jobless rate in November was 5.4 per cent. It was 8.2 per cent in December, 1960.

For the fifth month in a row unemployment declined from the corresponding period of 1960 following 17 successive months of increases in the year-to-year comparison.

For the third month in a row, the winter decline in employment was described as "less than seasonal." The December employment estimate was 6,082,000, 3 per cent higher than a year earlier.

SHOWS SMALL DECLINE

The bureau said employment declined by 73,000 between November and December, a small decline for this time of year. Layoffs in construction were relatively light because of a recent strengthening in non-residential building and a continued high level of house building.

December layoffs were mainly in manufacturing and agriculture, with temporary hirings in the trade and service industries for the holiday season offsetting them.

"The recovery in manufacturing activity was an important factor in the relatively strong employment demand," said the statement, prepared jointly by the Dominion Bureau of Statistics and the federal labor department.

The increase in unemployment between November and December was the smallest in five years, the report said.

FEWER MEN JOBLESS

The improvement was largely in the male work force. Some 353,000 men were jobless in December, 110,000 fewer than in the corresponding month a year earlier.

The number of unemployed women, estimated at 58,000, was slightly lower than a year earlier.

Unemployment on the West Coast was 46,000, compared with 38,000 in November and 63,000 in December, 1960. The total was 7.9 per cent of the labor force compared with 10.9 per cent a year earlier. Despite heavy snowfalls, factory employment increased during the month, while employment in manufacturing showed its usual seasonal decline. Considerable layoffs occurred in the food processing industry as the canning season ended. But other manufacturing industries maintained a fairly steady employment level.

Point of No Return

THE EUROPEAN COMMON Market has surmounted its most difficult obstacle by agreeing on a common agricultural policy. That is to say, restrictions on the movement of foodstuffs between the member nations will be gradually removed along with industrial tariffs.

Many outsiders had assumed, and some had hoped, that the intractable farm problem would remain unsolved. For if it had, the Common Market could not have moved to its second phase of general tariff reduction. Indeed, after such a shattering blow to its prestige and hopes, the Common Market might have died. But now the second phase begins, all tariffs will be reduced again toward zero within a decade at most, and the point of no return has been passed.

As nearly as anything can be in this disordered world, the Common Market must now be regarded as a permanent fact of international life. We confront here the largest single importer in the world, the second largest exporter and potentially the largest economic unit. There is no use imagining, as some important people in Ottawa have imagined, that the Common Market is a passing aberration or nuisance.

The great task of North American statesmanship, as President Kennedy has clearly seen, is to come to terms with this commercial giant, to bargain for reasonably free entry into its markets, to prevent it becoming a protectionist and isolated bloc.

Some Canadian newspapers are saying that it is already such a bloc but that statement is absurd on the face of it. The Common Market's joint external tariff, now under construction, will be only the average of the existing tariffs in its member nations and will be lower than that figure if a general transatlantic tariff reduction can be negotiated, as Mr. Kennedy hopes. Besides, the imports of the Common Market from all parts of the world are gigantic and are growing even under its present tariffs.

The United States government has grasped both the current facts and the huge future possibilities of the Common Market but the Canadian government seems unable to grasp them.

Despite the cheerful diplomatic language of its communiqué, last week's conference between the two governments in Ottawa showed little Canadian enthusiasm for Mr. Kennedy's bold tariff initiative.

In theory the Canadian government favors the "expansion of world trade on a multilateral, non-discriminatory basis" and pledges "Canada's readiness to play a constructive role in the promotion of freer world trade." But these broad statements of principle are meaningless unless the Canadian government is prepared to play its role in a general attack on transatlantic tariffs.

To be sure, any tariff reductions negotiated between the United States and Europe will apply to Canadian goods in both those markets, under the most-favored-nation formula. Canada, however, will be expected to make a contribution to any such bargain by reducing some of its own tariffs. This country can secure great advantages from a transatlantic deal, but not for nothing.

Nevertheless, the Canadian government's attitude is still reluctant, negative and, in the candid speeches of Mr. Howard Green, hostile to the policies of the Common Market, of Britain and of the United States.

It still seems to hope that somehow Britain will fail to join the Common Market and leave things as they stand. This is Ottawa's great illusion. For even if Britain fails to join, all the patterns of world trade are going to change anyway and Canada must meet increasingly hard competition everywhere.

In any case, the success of the Common Market in surmounting its farm problem must greatly increase the probability of Britain's membership before the end of this year. The Common Market, in fact, is so big, so rich and so successful that Britain cannot afford to remain outside it. Neither can the United States nor Canada.

They cannot join it directly, of course, but if they do not come to terms with it by a general transatlantic tariff reduction the free world will be disastrously split in its daily bread-and-butter business and, inevitably, in its political and military power.

Surplus Receding, Income Too

THE PROBLEM OF CANADA'S huge wheat surplus is dissolving but the result brings little cheer to Canadian farmers. Their net income shows scant probability of improving once the surplus has disappeared or been brought to manageable proportions.

Wheat exports have been pushed up by government deals, notably that with China. Last year widespread drought reduced output to not a great deal more than half the average crop for the last 10 years. Meanwhile the American dumping and give-away programs have eaten into former Canadian commercial markets.

Prospects of continuing drought and of further American dumping do little to encourage hopes of higher returns for the Canadian farmer.

Professor David L. MacFarlane, chairman of the Department of Agricultural Economics, Macdonald

College, McGill University, sets out the figures of the present situation and suggests the conditions to come.

If the government deal with Red China results in a growing demand there for Canadian wheat, as a swing from rice to bread developed a major market in Japan, long term benefits could result, Professor MacFarlane says. But lower production in Canada, coupled with uncertain export policies by the United States and the impermanence of Common Market policies dampen the optimism of wheat farmers. They have seen their real income decline substantially, while the prices of goods which farmers must buy have risen 25 per cent in the last 10 years.

Scant wonder, under these circumstances, that they no longer say on the prairies that "wheat is king," or that the proportion of farm income derived from wheat has dropped from 70 per cent in the 1920s to less than 40 per cent at present.

Firing Policemen

IN VANCOUVER THE OTHER day a judge ruled that the chief of police could not fire two officers for being too drunk to do their jobs.

Under the terms of Vancouver's charter, police officers can be hired or fired only by the police commission. Similarly, under the Municipal Act, the commission, and only the commission, can hire or fire policemen in Victoria. There seems to be some doubt that the chief can even suspend officers and make suspension immediately effective.

If the latter is the case, then changes should be made to give this power to chief constables. How else can they control the activities of unsatisfactory officers?

But hiring and firing may properly be left with the commission.

Some 'Junk' to Play With

IT MAY BE DISTRESSING to the orderly-minded, but a significant Nuffield Foundation report by Mr. Joseph Benjamin makes a plea for more "junk" for children to use as playthings.

Mr. Benjamin means junk, too. In the Grimsby "junk" playground where a pilot experiment was conducted, the children were given old automobile tires, old cars, garbage carts, railway sleepers, metal tanks, barrels, trowel boards, radio sets, cotton and wool remnants.

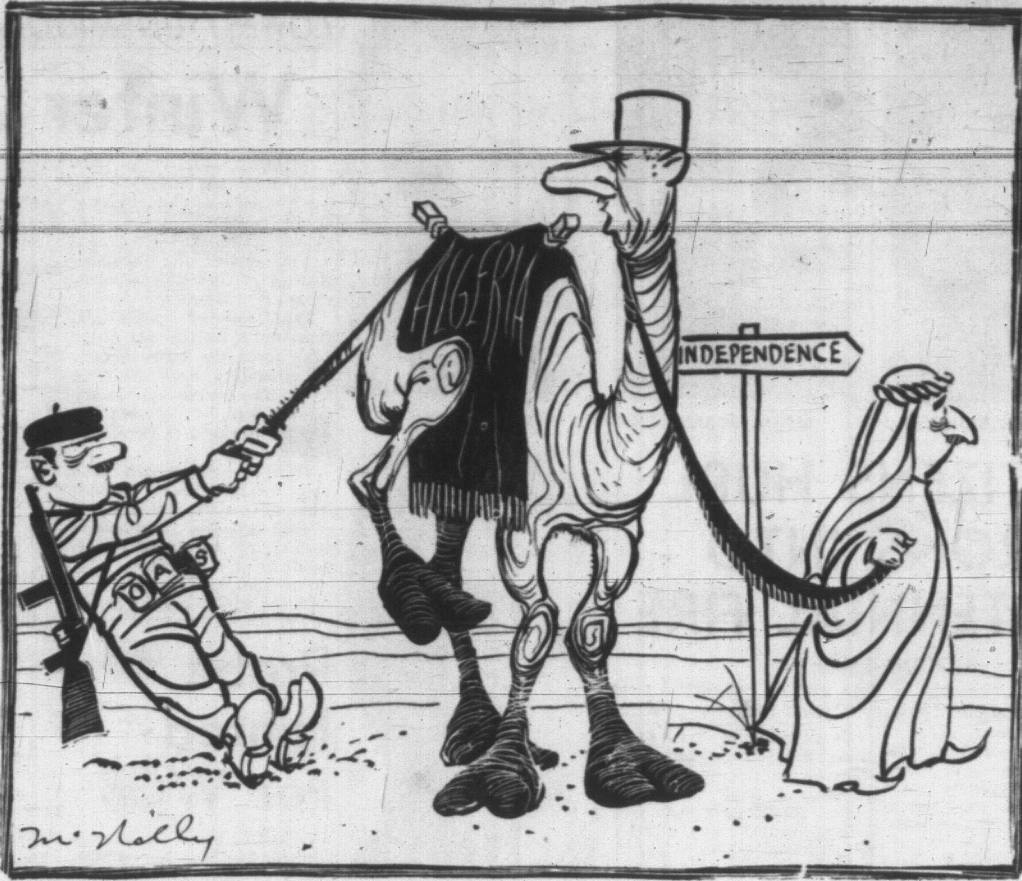

The youngsters further were encouraged to dig themselves caves, build their own forts and shelters and generally create their own world of make-believe.

Young people need this sort of thing, says Mr. Benjamin—and anyone remembering childhood will agree. How else can a boy or girl in our present civilization of order, almost regimented, existence find that freedom which makes each a "Huckleberry Finn" at some time in life?

By all means, let's have more formal playgrounds also, but let's not ignore the "junk" so essential to the constructive and imaginative urges of children.

An Age Radically New in Human Experience

Following is part of a penetrating address delivered recently by WALTER LIPPMANN to the Women's National Press Club in Washington.

THE age we are living in is radically new in human experience. During the past 15 years or so there has occurred a profound revolution in human affairs, and we are the first generation that has lived under these revolutionary new conditions. There has taken place a development in the art of war, and this is causing a revolutionary change in the foreign relations of all the nations of the world. The radical development is, of course, the production of nuclear weapons.

Lippmann

As a scientific phenomenon the nuclear age began with the explosion at Los Alamos in 1945. But in world relations the nuclear age really began about 10 years later, for during the 1940s the United States was the only nuclear power in the world.

But in the years following, the middle fifties, the Soviet Union created an armory of nuclear weapons and has built rockets which have made it for all practical purposes of diplomacy, a nuclear power equal with the United States.

The essential fact about the appearance of two opposed great powers armed with nuclear weapons is that war, which is an ancient habit of mankind, has become mutually destructive. Nuclear war is a way of mutual suicide. The modern weapons are not merely much bigger and more dangerous than any which existed before. They have introduced into the art of warfare a wholly new kind of violence.

Usable Instruments

Always in the past, war and the threat of war, whether it was aggressive or defensive, were usable instruments. They were usable instruments in the sense that nations could go to war for their national purposes.

They could threaten war for diplomatic reasons. Nations could transform themselves from petty states to great powers by means of war. They could enlarge their territory, acquire profitable colonies, change the religion of a vanquished population, all by means of war.

War was the instrument with which the social, political and legal systems of large areas were changed. Thus, in the old days before the nuclear age began, war was a usable—however horrible and expensive—instrument of national purpose.

The reason for that was that the old war could be won.

In the pre-nuclear age, right down through the Second World War, the victorious power was an organized state which could impose its will on the vanquished. We did that with Germany and with Japan. The damage they had suffered, although it was great, was not irreparable, as we know from the recovery after World War II of West Germany and Japan and the Soviet Union.

But from a full nuclear war, which might well mean 100 million dead, after the devastation of the great urban centres of the northern hemisphere and the contamination of the earth, the water and the air, there would be no such recovery as we have seen after the two World Wars of this century.

Mutual Damage

The damage done would be mutual. There would be no victor. As far in the future as we can see, the ruin would be irreparable.

The United States has the nuclear power to reduce Soviet society to a smoldering ruin, leaving the wretched survivors shocked and starving and diseased. In an interchange of nuclear weapons, it is estimated coolly by experts who have studied it, the Soviet Union would kill between 30 and 70 million Americans.

A war of that kind would not be followed by reconstruction. It would be followed by a Marshall Plan, and by all the constructive things that were done after World War II.

A nuclear war would be followed by a savage struggle for existence, as the survivors crawled out of their shelters, and the American Republic would have to be replaced by a stringent military dictatorship, trying to keep some kind of order among the desperate survivors.

To his great credit, President Eisenhower was quick to realize what nuclear war would be. After he and Prime Minister Churchill had studied some of the results of the nuclear tests, President Eisenhower made the historic declaration that there is no longer any alternative to peace.

When President Eisenhower made that statement no one of us, I think, understood its full significance and consequences.

No Alternative

We are now beginning to understand them, and here I venture to say is the root of the frustration and the confusion which torment us. For while nuclear weapons have made war, the old arbiter of human affairs, an impossible action for a rational statesman to contemplate, we do not have any other reliable way of dealing with issues that used to be resolved by war.

It is enormously difficult to make peace. It is intolerably dangerous and useless to make war about the fundamental issues.

That is where our contemporary frustration and confusion originate. We are confronted with an extraordinarily tantalizing and nerve-racking dilemma.

For as long a time as we can see into the future, we shall be living between war and peace, between a war that cannot be fought and a peace that cannot be achieved. The great issues which divide the world cannot be decided by a war that could be won, and they cannot be settled by a treaty that can be negotiated.

There, I repeat, is the root of the frustration which our people feel.

Our world is divided as it has not been since the religious wars of the 17th Century and a large part of the globe is in a great upheaval, the like of which has not been known since the end of the Middle Ages. But the power which used to deal with the divisions and conflicts of the past, namely organized war, has become an impossible instrument to use.

In the Opinion of Our Correspondents

Forgetting Purpose

Fisherman Ray Lund's letter about trade unionists who use up their time on "political safaris" (Times Jan. 9) is well directed.

A trade union's function is (or should be) to fight for better wages and working conditions, a legitimate objective, but by its nature conservative, hence there is a good chance that political action connected to trade unions will also be conservative and anti-working class and experience has shown this to be the case.

Today many union leaders have tied their unions to the rehashed CCF and while it is against the law to use union funds for partisan political purposes they avoid this by using their paid union time as CCF organizers, union stationery and paid secretaries for CCF work. Some union papers are converted into propaganda rags for the CCF and the original purpose of unions seems to be forgotten.

The result is that these leaders do not properly serve their functions as trade unionists and do the workers a disservice by leading them into the blind alley of reformism such as similar activity in other parts of the world should clearly show.

Premium Stamps

Further to your excellent leader on premium stamps, an interesting side-light on the controversy is seen in a study of what the customer actually receives.

For example, one of the prizes offered can be bought in many local stores for $29. It is offered "free" to those who buy groceries to complete fifteen books containing fifty pages counting thirty ten cent stamps to a page with a total of $150 each book; a grand total of $2,250. It would take at least a year to, the average family to eat that much, and if it did the prize would amount to a little more than one per cent.

The promoters know that not all customers will collect their stamps, and those who do will mislay many. The end result of all this ballyhoo may not amount to half of one per cent, going to the public in this new gimmick. Any grocer will tell you he can beat this in better, quicker service and lower prices. A lady correspondent in your columns says it is up to the housewives to "legislate" against stamps rather than the government. Mayb. she's right.

Rights of Minorities

The suggestion of Reeve Murphy of Saanich, now backed by Mayor Wilson of Victoria, that government intervention be sought for the forcible amalgamation of Greater Victoria municipalities typifies a dangerous trend in the world of today. Individuality whether in business or in nations must be crushed. Oak Bay is to be the Katanga of British Columbia.

OTTAWA:

J. G. Relished A Battle

BY VICTOR MACKIE

JIMMY Gardiner loved a fight. Whether tearing into his opponents in Parliament or racing back and forth across the country selling his agricultural policies, he relished a battle. Verbally he could slug it out and club those who sought to tangle with him. Or if necessary he would pitchfork his points, jabbing away at his political enemies endlessly until they subsided into silence. Now he is dead at 78.

He liked it best when he could get out on the hustings and mingle with the farmers to talk about growing grain, raising cattle and the dairy business. He hated being confined to Ottawa for long periods.

But his great love in Ottawa was the Dominion Experimental Farm, which is now surrounded on all sides by the rapidly growing capital city. He fought hard against any inroads on that farm. Only once did he lose in his determination to retain the farm property intact.

Mayoral Victory

That was a loss to Charlotte Whitton. She was the mayor and wanted a narrow strip of the farm property to widen a major street to accommodate the ever-mounting traffic.

She argued, she wheedled, she pressed him to give way and finally the Rt. Hon. James G. Gardiner, minister of agriculture, did give in and gave up the narrow strip. Those who know Charlotte Whitton were not surprised.

It was about the only argument Jimmy felt he had ever really lost.

His election defeat in 1958 he never regarded as a defeat.

"This is only a temporary setback; I'll be back," he told newsmen as he prepared to leave Ottawa.

In 1957 when Prime Minister Louis St. Laurent regarded the election results as a definite loss of confidence in his administration and was preparing to step down in favor of Mr. Diefenbaker, Mr. Gardiner was opposed to such a move. He argued that Mr. St. Laurent should carry on even though it would be a minority government. But the majority of the cabinet were against such a manoeuvre and Mr. St. Laurent would not hear of it.

Gardiner loved a good time. When the Commons Speaker or a member of the cabinet was throwing a party, Jimmy would put down his glass of tomato juice and take off his jacket to dance an Irish jig or sailor's hornpipe.

When the press gallery and members of Parliament each spring had their softball game on the lawns of Parliament Hill Jimmy would be there to hit a homer for the members. Baseball was his favorite sport.

In Ottawa sometimes in the afternoon if he had cleaned up the work on his desk he would disappear for a couple of hours. He had gone off to see a "western" movie. He liked them. He liked, too, to read westerns in paperbacks.

Always Present

Wherever the Liberals were having a meeting, there Jimmy liked to be.

Last fall he left his hospital bed, against the efforts of doctors and nurses to dissuade him, to go to Regina to introduce Liberal leader Pearson at a party rally.

"They had to push him onto his feet," recalled Mr. Pearson. "For the first five minutes he had great difficulty speaking. His voice was weak, he could hardly stand. Then suddenly he caught fire."

"It was the Jimmy Gardiner we all used to know. He was back in fighting form and he kept going for half an hour."

Shortly after he was back in hospital. He would take on all comers. In 1948 he was speaking in a Saskatchewan town. The hall door opened and a big burly man walked in. He began weaving his way to the platform shouting insults. It was apparent he was determined to break up the meeting.

"Go back to Ottawa, you don't know what you're talking about," he shouted at Gardiner.

"The CCF and you had your say last week. Now give me my turn," shouted the minister of agriculture. "One more interruption and I'll throw you out..."

"Go back to Ottawa..." the man repeated.

Gardiner's coat was half off as he started down the platform steps. The big man hurriedly retreated. Then, slipping out the door, he was gone.

Back to the platform strode Jimmy, who, stretched to his full height, was five feet four inches. The applause was thunderous.

REPORTING

OTTAWA — Certain election harbingers are being observed. For example, our operative in Montreal reports he saw Postmaster-General Bill Hamilton shaking hands with people at a bus stop.

"That hasn't happened since 1958," he added.

A harbinger is a kind of early bird. We have another kind of early bird with us: Tory MP George Chatterton of Victoria, in town a week early for the session opening. He explains he brought the family east to get them settled and the youngsters in school before the fray starts.

But there's another reason too, I suspect. He wanted to escape those tedious chores at home. Day before he left he had to cut his lawn. And he couldn't let his pansies bloom unnoticed — he had to get busy in the garden too.

Grits and Socialists among the 11,000 members of the Ottawa Ski Club get wry pleasure from the road-sign just past the turnoff to their Camp Fortune ski area. It says "Dead End."

The dead end is at the Harrington Lake summer residence of Prime Minister Diefenbaker, but the sign at the ski club turnoff is about six miles short of the PM's property.

It would appear that the PM, having had the road plowed for his convenience, doesn't want skiers penetrating his wilderness retreat while he ponders certain problems. Like "What'll I do about Donald?" and "Will I go in the spring, or the fall?" and "What'll I say in the Throne Speech?"

In consequence of a bit of the constitutional mummery we inherited from the English Parliament, the PM is actually the author of the speech the governor-general reads at the opening of Parliament. Diefenbaker, with the assistance of his high-priced ghost writer, John Fisher, prepared every word that Governor-General Vanier will utter in the Senate Chamber on Thursday.

While Vincent Massey was governor-general the west was hard hit by foot-and-mouth disease. The PM at that time, Louis St. Laurent, wanted to refer in the Throne Speech to his government's efforts to wipe out this stockmen's scourge, and a paragraph to this effect was penned into the original English language draft of the speech.

Then the draft went to the translators to be rendered into French. "Foot and mouth" came back as "la maladie de Vincent" — that is, Vincent's disease.

In consternation the PM's office returned the translation with an order to find another French phrase for foot and mouth. So after much searching of dictionaries, the translators came up with the more erudite but less titillating "fièvre aphteuse." Vincent Massey read it without turning a hair.

Ability to field a fast ball is a player's best asset in the parliamentary league, and old baseball pro Mike Pearson is showing that he's learning. At his press conference last week Tory reporters belted some loaded questions at him.

Did Pearson think, one of them asked, that taxes are too high?

"The present level of taxes is far too high," he replied, "unless the expenditures of the government are essential."

PROBE CHARGE GREEKS PAID 'ENTRY FEE'

TORONTO (CP) — District superintendent J. D. McFarlane of the department of citizenship and immigration said Monday he is investigating allegations that Greek immigrants paid cash to a Toronto travel agent to get other immigrants into Canada.

"The investigation should be over in a few days," Mr. McFarlane said.

Columnist Pierre Berton of the Toronto Star wrote today that he has collected a file of sworn statements from Greek immigrants who say they paid various sums to the travel agent "for favors received."

Pearson Asks Mild Reform For Senate

TORONTO (CP) — Liberal Leader Lester B. Pearson Monday suggested a moderate form of Senate reform, but he said its basic purpose — protector of the provinces — should not be changed without full provincial agreement.

He told the Liberal Businessmen's Club of Toronto a useful change in the Senate could be made by establishing a term of membership — either by setting an age limit of 75 years or by making appointments for 15 years, or by some combination of the two.

When some people talk of Senate reform, he said, they sometimes forget it was designed on a constitutional basis to protect the provinces. This should not be changed without full provincial agreement.

Pravda Could Top 10 Million a Day

MOSCOW (Reuters) — Pravda, the daily voice of the Soviet Communist party, does not claim to be the biggest selling newspaper on earth, but its publishers admit sales could top 10,000,000 a day but for the newsprint shortage.

The newspaper celebrates its 50th birthday next May 5. It never takes a holiday, appears seven days a week and sells 6,300,000 copies a day.

However, Pavel Satyukov, the editor, complained at October's Communist party congress that its development was being held up by backwardness in the newsprint industry.

Every newspaper and magazine in the Soviet Union has to rely on strictly rationed supplies from Soviet factories. For all its tradition and its position as No. 1 messenger of the party's word, Pravda has to take its turn with the rest.

It has gone a long way since it began as a "workers' paper" in 1912 under the Czarist censor. Its first print was about 50,000 copies.

It was founded because of the split of the old Social Democrat party into the Bolshevik (majority) and the Menshevik (minority) factions. The party newspaper Iskra, although founded by Lenin, was in the hands of the Mensheviks. St. Petersburg workers, with Lenin's approval, decided to print their own newspaper.

Lenin wrote 130 articles for the newspaper in its first two years and, with other revolutionaries such as Stalin and Molotov prominent on its editorial board, the censors kept a strict eye on its activities.

Eight times in its first two years it was forced to close, each time reappearing under a different name. Finally in 1914, on the eve of the First World War, it was forced to close down altogether.

But after the February, 1917, revolution it reopened with Lenin again among its most prolific contributors. But fell into disfavor with the provisional government and was closed down once more.

Its presses were confiscated and the editorial board arrested.

ed. Again and again, it was closed down as it appeared under other names until finally the Bolsheviks seized power during the October revolution.

Now, the newspaper is produced in a modern building built in 1934 by a Soviet architect whose design was heavily influenced by the French architect Corbusier.

Every night, the presses turn out 2,500,000 copies of Pravda for Moscow and its surroundings. Matrices are sent by rail and air to 21 other major centres so it can be printed and distributed on the spot. It is read in the most remote parts of the Soviet Union.

Our Very Own Calendar

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Hanging on the wall by my desk are four calendars, which are all that I have room for.

So if you happen to have invented a new type of calendar, please don't send it to me, not even if it is illustrated with a sexy picture of Melina what's-her-name-who-played-in-Never-on-Sunday.

Perhaps, I should say especially not if it is illustrated with a sexy picture of Melina what's-her-name-etc.

I have enough trouble figuring out what day it is without being distracted by anything like that.

Just a few months ago I was operating with only one calendar—the Gregorian version devised by Pope Gregory VII in 1582. Ascertaining that date then was relatively simple.

Then I chanced to write a column about the "perpetual calendar" invented by Dr. Willard E. Edwards of Honolulu. This indirectly put me in touch with Walter F. Rothe of Washington, inventor of the "universal space age calendar."

I have since discovered that the countryside is fairly teeming with calendar inventors and that there is an intense rivalry among them.

This was brought to my attention by Elisabeth Achelis of New York, former president of the World Calendar Association.

Rothe told me that the perpetual calendar and the world calendar were practically the same thing and that the universal calendar had virtually vanquished them both.

But Miss Achelis disputed his statement. She contended that the universal calendar "is a re-hash of the old George Eastman plan," with nothing much new except the name.

Subsequently, I received a communication from Wooster, Ohio, informing me that the late professor Yanny of the College of Wooster had invented a perpetual calendar back in 1898.

Having no desire to take sides in the dispute, I have diligently tried to use all of the calendars that have been sent to me.

It is getting a bit confusing, however, and it is my hope that I can now gracefully withdraw from the controversy. I decided that the best way to do this was to invent a calendar of my own.

Called the "cosmos sluggards' calendar," it divides the year into 146 weeks, each week consisting of two and one-half days. The weeks all begin at 7 p.m. Friday and end at 7 a.m. Monday.

As you can see, this gives us a year full of weekends. It covers everything except the extra day in leap year. We may have to work that day.

Common Cold

Linked

With Virus

CHICAGO (AP) — A direct link between the common cold and an intestinal virus has been found for the first time, four medical researchers have reported.

The virus, coxsackie A-21, is commonly found in man's intestinal tract. The same virus now has been recovered from the throats of marines suffering from colds at Camp Lejeune, N.C., the researchers said.

If coxsackie A-21 does turn out to be an important cause of the common cold, said their report, a preventive vaccine could prove effective.

The virus discovery was reported in the Journal of the American Medical Association. A Journal editorial said the discovery indicates "important new information" about the nature of colds in adults will be forthcoming. It is "not unlikely" that intestinal viruses may prove to be the cause of a certain percentage of colds, it said.

The coxsackie A group of viruses previously had been linked with mild fevers and neurological diseases.

1930 Precedent Cited in Checkoff Case

The B.C. government has "abused its authority" by refusing trade unions the right to collect membership dues for a political party, Vancouver lawyer T. R. Berger told the Court of Appeal Monday afternoon.

Mr. Berger, representing the Oil, Chemical and Atomic Workers' Union, claimed that the government's Bill 42, passed by the B.C. legislature last winter, is beyond the power of a provincial government.

The bill withdraws the right of trade unions to use funds collected from members by the checkoff for political purposes.

REPEALED IN 1930

Mr. Berger said the legislation was "almost identical" with an act passed by the Parliament of Canada in 1930 and repealed in 1930. This act decreed that no company or association other than one incorporated for political purposes should contribute money to any political party or candidate.

The fact that this legislation was repealed as unconstitutional set a precedent against the legality of British Columbia's Bill 42, Mr. Berger said.

The Alberta Social Credit legislature, he added, had tried to pass laws interfering with the freedom of trade unions and of the press, Mr. Berger added, and these had been declared invalid.

"Trade unions in this country existed before the Labor Relations Act and their members have the right to freedom of association in pursuance of their objectives.

"A trade union is a voluntary association and its members have the right to support the party of their choice. . . . No trade union would support a political party without consulting its membership."

REVERSAL ASKED

Mr. Berger asked the Appeal Court to reverse the judgment of Mr. Justice Norman Whitaker in Supreme Court last Aug. 25.

Mr. Justice Whittaker upheld Bill 42, denying that it interfered with growth of political parties; curtailed freedom of unions to participate in politics, or interfered with federal elections or abridged civil rights.

Mr. Berger insisted that the judge had erred in not declaring the bill beyond the competence of the B.C. legislature or any other provincial body.

"This legislation is a usurpation of federal power," he said, "in that it relates to funds used for federal as well as political elections."

Uproar in Court As Douks Guilty

NELSON (CP)—RCMP officers carried several hysterical women from a courtroom here Monday after two Sons of Freedom Doukhobors were convicted of planting explosives under an Anglican church.

'WE, TOO, HAVE WALLS' SAYS MAYOR

A study to uncover all the facts and an approach to amalgamation problems without prejudice was asked Monday by Mayor R. B. Wilson.

Speaking to a luncheon meeting of the Gyro Club, Mayor Wilson said this method would bring the right answer to present problems.

"I believe we must respect the opinions and rights of our adjoining municipalities," said the mayor. "If, after adequate study, the facts do not indicate that consolidation of civic government is advisable in Greater Victoria, then I would be willing to accept the situation as it is then."

Referring to the Berlin Wall, the mayor pointed out that "we, too, have walls, in intermunicipal walls . . . although far less ominous than the Berlin one . . . but walls between neighbors are poor things in principle."

Pandemonium broke out after Freedomites Fred Jmaeff, 37, and Alex Barisoff, 24, were found guilty by a B.C. Supreme Court jury.

"They're not guilty . . . If they're guilty, then we're guilty," about 20 Freedomite women shouted from the gallery.

Mr. Justice Norman Whitaker ordered police to remove the women but they refused to budge. Some were jostled out of the courtroom while others were removed bodily.

Jmaeff, and Barisoff, scheduled for sentence at the end of the assizes, are among 78 Freedomites arrested in an RCMP crackdown following widespread bombings and arson in the Kootenay district of southeastern British Columbia.

MORE TRIALS DUE

Many of them will stand trial on terrorist charges at the special assizes, expected to last a month.

The session resumed after the disturbances with the trial of two more Freedomites charged with planting a bomb at a grain elevator last April at Wynndel, 45 miles southeast of here.

The trial of Leon Legebokoff and George Kinakin continued today.

The uproar involving the Freedomite women continued after they had been forced out of the courtroom.

Three swooning women were carried from a courthouse hallway to the sidewalk and a doctor was called to attend one of them.

"You've killed her," a bystander shouted at the police officers. "Why don't you kill us all?"

She was taken to hospital by ambulance and later reported in good condition. The doctor said her pulse was normal.

One RCMP constable held a police dog on a leash throughout the incident.

"You call yourselves Christians and you turn a dog on us" one woman shouted.

Two Admit Supermarket Burglary Try

Two men found on the roof of a supermarket Saturday night—with burglar tools in their possession—pleaded guilty in Saanich police court Monday to attempting to break into the premises.

Charged were Floyd Edward MacLean and James Robert Russell, both of no fixed address, who were caught at Oakcrest Market, 3475 Quadra.

MacLean also pleaded guilty to a charge of attempting to break into the same premises Jan. 9 and with breaking and entering and theft there Jan. 6. Saanich police said he took about $250 on the latter occasion.

HAD KNIFE

Russell pleaded guilty to having a spring knife in his possession when caught on Saturday.

Magistrate William Ostler remanded both men for a probation report and sentence to Jan. 23.

Immediately following in city police court MacLean admitted to breaking and entering the D. and D. Tire Co., Blanshard Street, Friday night and stealing $1.

Again he was remanded to Jan. 23.

Anka Backs Fuel Plan

OTTAWA (CP)—An Ottawa company whose backers include singer Paul Anka said today it is seeking authority to pipe fuel oil directly into homes in Ontario.

Armstrong Construction and Equipment Limited said it will place its proposal before the Ontario Fuel Board in Toronto Tuesday.

Larry Armstrong, company head, said that pumping fuel oil directly into the home would eliminate home storage and save the consumer as much as two cents a gallon.

He's First-Rate On Fifth Street

Six corner lot homeowners on Fifth Street will see their new sidewalk taxes reduced because one of them won his appeal Monday before the city's court of revision on local improvements.

Sue Hong Bin, 2909 Fifth Street, pointed out the longest side of his property ran along Fifth but his house faced Topaz Avenue. As a result, he claimed, he should have been charged at a reduced flankage instead of frontage rate for the sidewalk put in on Fifth.

City engineer J. C. Garnett and city assessor Alfred Joyce agreed that he should be given a break in the interpretation of the Municipal Act.

SAME FOR ALL

But city solicitor T. P. O'Grady said Mr. Bin could be relieved only if the others in the same situation also were relieved.

As a result, court of revision decided to approve a formula which one city official said would reduce the local improvement taxes for five other homeowners on Fifth, between Finlayson and Vista.

Cost to be picked up by the city will be $384, court was told.

SACRAMENTO, Calif. (AP)—A faculty committee at Sacramento State College is looking into the customary practice of saying prayers at the beginning and end of commencement exercises. Oak Bay Projects To Cost $90,800

Approval of $90,800 worth of parking space for the village center works projects was recommended to council Monday night by Oak Bay works committee in its first meeting as a single unit.

Largest item on the list was a $26,000 expenditure for a phase of boulevard sprinkler installations, and the smallest estimate, $5,600, is for extension of a surface drain outfall across Willows Beach at the foot of Estevan.

ONE REJECTED

The committee, with Coun. Fred Robinson in the chair, turned back only one item to the estimates committee—$12,000 for proposed improvements at Uplands Park.

It is planned eventually to level some areas for unorganized playing fields, install drainage and lagoon systems, gravelled paths and new trees in the southwest section.

The council will be asked to consent to a $23,500 widening of Musgrave Street between Dalhousie and Bowker to continue work completed a year ago.

WIDENING ESTIMATE

Engineer Geoffrey White was asked to prepare an estimate on the cost of widening the Oak Bay Avenue end of the street, which at that point is Hampshire. The committee will consider the possibility of initiating this project under local improvement plan.

It was noted the wider street in this area will help provide

DOUG PEDEN, Sports Editor

8 Victoria Daily Times TUESDAY, JAN. 16, 1962

Hal Malone LOOKS AT SPORTS

Diary of a weekend:

Saturday: 4:15 p.m.—Turned on the vidiot to see if there was a chance to make money on a good thing at Santa Anita. Not a tout in sight. Had to listen to lot of spiffle about beautiful appurtenances at Santa Anita. Came to conclusion that no flossier bin exists for losing money. Shown pictures of Turf Club, water nymphs, parklike paddock and statue of Seabiscuit. Now there was a good thing in his day. Finally got around to the race. Looked like they should give the money to Four and Twenty and call the whole thing off. Aside from Olden Times, seemed that nothing short of machine gun could stop Four and Twenty! Grimaced when announcer Harry Henson repeated for 1337th time that a horse was ridden by "incomparable" Willie Shoemaker. Chuckled when "not incomparable" but obviously capable John Longden showed up in winner's circle with Four and Twenty.

Noticed wide grin on face of Max Bell in winner's circle. Recalled there is grave shortage of men who cannot smile after picking up total of $65,000 within eight days. Not ready to believe Four and Twenty as good as Longden claims. May change appraisal drastically if they run and hide in $175,000 Maturity Jan. 27. Sorry hadn't bet on winner. Even $3.80 is better than bank interest.

6:45 p.m.—Hockey time but children watching Disney. Got Disney off vidiot by simple process of locking small children in clothes closet. Wife objected—"they make mess of clothes." Solved that by locking wife in with them to keep order. Would have bet half a million that Leafs, trailing 3-1, wouldn't catch Detroit. Decided to hold onto money when Billy Harris made it 3-2. Even when somebody named Kozak (?) scored I felt Leafs were fortunate to get tie. Watched Harris attempt to claw his way through three Red Wings. Expected to see stretcher-bearers come out to collect his remains. Saw Harris score. Wondered if Detroit's Jack Adams would have shipping out tickets for three Red Wings immediately after game.

9:05 p.m.—Having left wife out of closet, took her to Central gym, where Haida Chiefs engaged Alberni Athletics in basketball. Noticed that Athletics wouldn't frighten too many teams if Doug Brinham broke a leg. Couldn't understand why Chiefs didn't check with arms up. Delighted to see Chiefs keep close with good shooting. Unable to comprehend why Elmer Curtis didn't have Chiefs using fast break. Noticed he had 12 men, Alberni only eight. Bumped into Haida supreme commander, Neil Sprinkling. Mentioned that it must be nice to play before people. Counted over 100. "Good night," he said. "We took in $60." Was tempted to advise him to put it all on Four and Twenty.

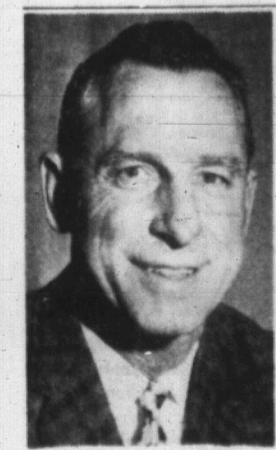

9:50 p.m.—Arrived at Aurora Lanes. Found it clogged with people who watch All-Star bowling on TV and then come down to discover how easy the game is. Got lane beside half-dozen teen-agers. Nearly threw self down alley when female type addressed pins in blue stretch pants with enchanting wiggle to match. Nearly got beat by wife. Score-wise, that is. Rolled three games. Shouldn't have. Couldn't get a strike even if wore blue stretch pants.

Sunday: 1 p.m.—Played basketball at Lake Hill School. Dropped hooks, one-handers, set shots with great aplomb and grace. Realized that it won't last forever. Someday, Alex, 6; Karen, 8; Leigh, 10, and rest of little kids will grow up. Be a lot harder to knock on their sasparrilla than then now.

3 p.m.-5 p.m.—Took wife's advice not to over-exert. Indulged in medicinal egg-nogg, suitably prepared. Told wife to take it easy. Reminded her to sew rip in pants, keep kids quiet, prepare supper while got strength back on cheslerfield.

7:45 p.m.—Yielded to request to play ping-pong with wife. Excellent mother, terrific cook, but she has forehead like myopic Englishman-wielding butterfly net. Won three games from her despite being run over by small child on tractor. Went to bed early. Exhausting weekend.

Basketball's most famous and most-travelled team will perform at Nanaimo this week. Harlem Globetrotters, who have acquired a legendary reputation over the years through their ability to fashion an amazing string of victories while combining humorous antics with their hoop skill, meet Honolulu Surf Riders Thursday night at Nanaimo Civic Arena. The professional clubs start at 8, following a 30-minute preliminary between local pre-midnet clubs. In 34 seasons of barnstorming, the Trotters, who now have two units on the road, have won 7,125 games while losing only 309. As usual, the Trotters are accompanied by a vaudeville troupe, which will spice proceedings with a half-time show. Singing Cab Calloway and pianist Cyril Haynes feature the seven-act show. Tickets are available at Civic Arena, which will accept reservations until noon Thursday. Tickets, costing $1, are on sale at arena.

NEXT OPPONENT?

Floyd Says JFK Knows

WASHINGTON (AP)—Heavyweight champion Floyd Patterson let President Kennedy in on a secret recently. Patterson told newsmen he let the president know who his next opponent will be. Sonny Liston has been mentioned as Patterson's most probable next opponent, but the champion refused to be pinned down to him. He mentioned several other possibilities. "I told him, but it's not for the press," Patterson said.

MONTREAL (UPI)—The Toronto-Maple Leafs dominated the first half balloting for the National Hockey all-star team today with three selections, but New York Ranger playing-coach Doug Harvey was the top point man.

SECOND TEAM

Hockey writers and broadcasters in the six NHL cities voted on the basis of the player's performance for the first 35 games of the 70-game schedule.

A second ballot will be cast at the end of the season and the players with the highest aggregate point total will be named to the final all-star team. Points are awarded on a basis of five for a first choice, three for a second and one for a third.

MISSED ONLY FIVE

Harvey, perennial all-star and winner of the Norris trophy as the NHL's best defenceman, received 85 of a possible 90 points in the mid-way voting. He has been a unanimous choice on several previous occasions. Mahovlich was next with 77 points, followed by Plante with 73, Bathgate with 69, Brewer with 39 and Kelly with 30.

The voting was closer than usual. Kelly edged Richard by only two points, while Brewer squeezed in ahead of Evans by only three points.

The wide margin between Plante and Bower was somewhat of a surprise. Montreal's masked netminder out-pooled Bower by a margin of 73-49, despite the fact Bower was the first half leader in goals allowed.

TWO REPEATERS

Harvey and Mahovlich were the only repeaters from last year's final team. Bellevue and Bernie Geoffrion, and Detroit's Marcel Pronovost—all first team all-stars in 1960-61—didn't even make the second team this time.

Bellevue missed the Canadiens' first 25 games and didn't even draw a point in the voting. Geoffrion, a 50-goal scorer and most valuable player last year, wound up no better than fourth.

Navy Cagers Sink Students In Cage Clash

You might say that Navy's junior men basketball team has a balanced attack.

Every one of Navy's 10 players participated in the scoring at Mount View Monday night as the Tars nipped Chinese Students 36-34 in an exhibition game.

A Senior "B" women's exhibition game saw Esquimalt Bakery whip Victoria College 32-21. The game was called at halftime because the Collegians lacked players.

Marblehead Boat May Defend Cup

MARBLEHEAD, Mass. (AP)—A 12-metre sloop is under construction at Marblehead as a contender to defend the America's Cup in this year's challenge by the Australians.

The races are scheduled in Newport, R.I., in September, if the Australian yachtsmen decide their boat, also under construction, is fast enough.

PRO CAGERS REVERSE STAND

Military Rule Waived

ST. LOUIS (AP)—The National Basketball Association all-star squads which meet tonight in St. Louis are the best in the game's history, in the opinion of West coach Fred Schaus of Los Angeles.

"You could pick an all-time team for the sport without going beyond the 22 players on these two squads," said Schaus, who played in the first NBA all-star game in 1951 at Boston.

"I know a lot of the old timers will disagree," he said. The east squad includes the

Stuttering Bruins Shake Up Roster

Head Returns To Portland; Gamble Called

BOSTON (AP)—Boston Bruins, wallowing in the National Hockey League cellar, have recalled goalie Bruce Gamble from Portland and Buckaroos of the Western League and two forwards from the minors. The expected shakeup came Monday night, delayed by the necessity of getting waivers on Bob Beckett and Terry Gray who are being shipped out.

Left winger Larry Leach was called up from Providence Reds of the American Hockey League in exchange for Beckett while former U.S. Olympic team star Tommy Williams has been summoned from Kingston Frontenacs of the Eastern Professional League for Gray.

Gamble, 24, who had a 3.75 goals—against record while tending the Boston nets most of last season, is being given another shot at the big time. He has a 2.21 goals-per-game yield for first-place Portland this season.

REVERSES SEPT. DEAL

Under heavy pressure for some time, rookie Don Head, 1960 Canadian Olympic team star, is being returned to Portland in a reversal of the September club deal. Gamble reported to the Niagara Falls, Ont., training camp 15 pounds overweight and was sent packing.

Boston has surrendered 183 goals in 43 games while limping along 15 points behind fifth-place Detroit Red Wings.

All the players are due to report in time for Thursday night's game here against Detroit.

Because the poor showing is due to lack of forward help on defence as well as lack of experience among defencemen and in goal the Bruins have fingered Leach, a hard-hitting fore-checker.

Leach played with the Bruins two years ago and was returned to the minors for seasoning. He missed the first 14 games this year with a broken ankle. Since then he has had eight goals and 18 points.

CUP HOPES DIM

The brewing Bruin tempest stems from the fact that between 1926 and 1959 the team missed the Stanley Cup playoffs only three times and captured three titles. Now they have been out of the cup competition for two straight years—including an unprecedented last-place finish in 1960-61—and appear a sure bet for the same fate this season.

Williams, a centre, has been converted to right wing where the Bruins and their building youth movement are especially in need of help.

"Williams has excellent speed, we'd like to use it. Leach will take a regular turn. I'm not sure now about my lines."

Once volatile, Watson has learned to take the slow development of his rookie-heavy squad in stride. Through it all he maintains a hopeful tune: "This Bruins team isn't as bad as the record indicates."

Stone-Tossing Police In Action Wednesday

Anyone contemplating a crime is warned to stay out of Victoria this week.

The cops are coming. Policemen from all over Greater Victoria and other parts of Vancouver Island will descend on the city's two curling rinks for the Vancouver Island Police curling championship. Play starts Wednesday.

Eighteen rinks will compete for the right to represent the Island in the British Columbia championships in Vancouver next month. Winner of that competition will compete in the Canadian Police championships at Lethbridge.

Victoria RCMP will send seven teams into the competition here. Victoria City has two teams and RCMP (Marine Division), RCMP Port Alberni, RCMP Nanaimo, RCMP Duncan, RCMP Courtenay, RCMP Courtenay, Oak Bay Police, Saanich Police and Esquimalt Police, one team each.

Defending champion Maury Lowe, of Duncan, will not play this year. Skipping the Duncan entry will be Norm Harvey-McKeen, a member of Lowe's championship rink last year.

Winners of the championship event will receive the Kirby Memorial Trophy, presented by Saanich Police.

Here is the opening draw: 8:30 a.m., Victoria Curling Club—Bob Maeson (Victoria RCMP) vs. Ron Coulter (Saanich); Ray Backhouse (Victoria RCMP) vs. Don Ester (Marine Division RCMP); Bob Andrews (Victoria City) vs. Frank Daniel (Victoria RCMP).

10:00 a.m., Esquimalt Curling Club—Vern Meyer (Port Alberni) vs. Jerry Gancy (Victoria RCMP); Supp. MacDonell (Victoria RCMP) vs. Ray Nesbitt (Nanaimo); Norm Harvey-McKeen (Duncan) vs. Jim Owens (Esquimalt); Mary McArthur (Victoria City) vs. Don Buchanan (Chenais); Wally Semmel (Victoria RCMP) vs. Jack Collar (Courtenay); Insp. Gerrie (Victoria RCMP) vs. Ralph Sinden (Oak Bay).

'NO AMATEUR,' GENE KNOWS ABOUT PURSES

NEW YORK (AP)—Gene Fullmer has set his sights on Archie Moore's New York-Massachusetts-European version of the world light-heavyweight championship—with one important reservation.

"I would like to meet Archie for the title any time," said Fullmer, himself the world (National Boxing Association version) middleweight champion. "But I won't fight him if he wants all the money."

"I have heard of some of his demands before he has signed contracts. My days as an amateur are over. I want part of the purse."

FLYERS EDGE SEALS

Flyer Rearguard Charges Referee

SAN FRANCISCO (CP)—Edmonton Flyers won Monday night's only Western Hockey League game but lost rookie defenceman John Miszuk through a skirmish with referee Joey Johns.

League president Al Leader suspended Miszuk indefinitely for knocking Johns to the ice at the end of the game. Edmonton won 4-3 over the Seals before 3,463 fans at San Francisco.

Johns gave Miszuk a match penalty following the incident and immediately contacted Leader at his Seattle home. Leader announced the suspension and said a fine would be set when he receives a report from the referee.

Johns said later he wasn't sure what prompted Miszuk's attack, but it may have stemmed from a warning he gave an Edmonton player after an offside call against the Flyers in the final seconds.

GAME WAS ROUGH

The referee said the Edmonton team, including general manager and coach Bud Poole, followed him around the ice and shouted at him after the match penalty to Miszuk.

The game was rough throughout with five penalties called, including majors to Len Haley of the San Francisco and Doug Meisser of Edmonton. Haley, sold to the Seals by Edmonton only last week, also received two minors.

Officials Refute Norwegian Report

MONTREAL (CP)—Bob LeBel of Montreal, president of the International and North American Ice Hockey Federations, said Monday night he knows of no barriers preventing the world hockey championships from being run off as scheduled March 7-18 in Colorado Springs, Colo.

He joined J. F. (Bunny) Ahearne, president of the European Federation, in scoffing at a news report in a Norwegian sports magazine that the United States will have to give up the championships because it had refused visas to the East German team.

These reports concerning the visas appeared earlier and observers saw them as an obvious political manoeuvre. The U.S. does not recognize East Germany.

But under federation rules, any country which refuses entry to a would-be competitor loses the right to hold the championships.

In Washington, state department officials said the applications from the East Germans for Allied travel documents and U.S. visas were still being processed. They said the applications were only received about a week ago and there is no decision yet on whether to grant them.

Ahearne also denied a report that a meeting he called for Geneva Jan. 24 was aimed at consideration of a new venue for the tournament.

He said it was to iron out "misunderstandings" and representatives from East Germany and the U.S. were asked to attend.

LeBel said this was a normal procedure. "There are misunderstandings and he wants to get them settled."

He said that if the East Germans had been denied visas they would certainly have appealed to him and no such appeal has been made.

By ERNIE FEDORUK

Golf, as presented on television, looks exciting and interesting. And quite often, very easy.

Don't let the camera fool you. It can be a tough grind. You don't realize what those pros go through," says Dick Munn, who got the other side of the television story when the Shell Oil people got Stan Leonard and Jack Burke together for a match in Banff.

The match was filmed in September and presented on the video viewers at the weekend.

Munn, 19-year-old assistant pro at Banff, had a ringside seat. Dickie was Leonard's stand-in at "rehearsal."

"It's a rough go," recalled Dickie. "The camera crew treats you like a peasant. They tell you when to hit, where to stand, when to put."

"The gallery, which is hired, gets the same treatment."

Took Four Days to Play 18 Holes

Snow, overcast skies and freezing cold also had a hand in production. It took Leonard and Texas Jack four days to play 18 holes. They figure it takes, normally, about an hour to film one hole, said Dick.

Banff's summer season officially closed Sept. 16. The oil company then took over the entire course (how would you like to pay that green fee, Charlie?).

The production staff examined the course Sept. 19, pre-determining camera positions for the match which was to start the next day. They planned to spend two days on the actual filming, knowing no retakes were to be made.

Munn's role, as understudy, helped the crew determine camera positions. The weather that day was a balmy 65 degrees.

Four inches of snow greeted the 70-man crew the next day and cameras weren't set in operation before mid-afternoon. Three holes of play had been filmed when clouds began to obscure the sun—a sign of trouble for the cameramen. Burke and Leonard played one more hole that day, making their final putts while snow blanketed the green.

Cameramen Loved That Setting

Only two holes were played the following day before bad weather again halted activities on the course. Five more holes were played on the third day and the remaining seven on the fourth day of shooting.

Seven cameras were used. The two golfers often sat in heated cars while freshly-charged batteries were put in to replace batteries that had bogged down due to the cold.

"The main thing with the cameramen," said Munn, "was the scenery. That was the big thing."

"And those cameramen are very as all get-out. There's always one hidden directly in front of the tee. Hit a ball thin and—pow—somebody's lost a cameraman!"

The cameramen weren't the only ones taken in by the scenery. Standing on a knoll on the 16th, Burke slowly rotated his head about 230 degrees, taking a visual picture of the panorama.

Turning to Munn: "Where do you go from here if you die? This is heaven. . . I didn't know a course like this ever existed."

Burke, who found distances deceiving and had difficulty clubbing, must have had the scenery on his mind for the four days. Leonard beat him, 69-74.

Mr. Gene Sarazen, the commentator, had another reason why Leonard won.

"Stan's a powerful man," Gene told the TV audience. "He gets it from hunting bear up here."

Quite illegal in a national park, Mr. Gene, but if it helps our Stan win more golf tournaments, we're all for it.

Parker Leading Suburban Loop

NANAIMO — Bert Parker had reason to be happy with his goal and two assists in Suburban Hockey League play here on the weekend.

The three points sent him to the top of the scoring ladder. Additionally they contributed to Arrowsmith Rangers' 5-3 victory over last place Lake Cowichan.

Duncan Falcons maintained their grip on first place by blanking Nanaimo Aces, 5-0.

'Curtain' Crews Pose World Cup Threat to Brazil

By MICHAEL PRENTICE

LONDON (Reuters)—Russia and other Iron Curtain countries are expected to provide the biggest challenge to Brazilian supremacy in the World Soccer Cup finals this year.

The finals will be played in Chile in May and June. The defending champion Brazilians will be more dangerous than ever in a country where they are familiar with the climate and food, but the Eastern European nations are optimistic.

After two years of preliminary play, 16 teams have qualified for the final stages of the seventh World Cup.

Russia, Czechoslovakia and Hungary are rated as having the best chance to dethrone Brazil.

The other qualifying teams are Bulgaria, England, Chile, Switzerland, West Germany, Italy, Argentina, Uruguay, Mexico, Colombia and Spain.

Czechs Have Well-Drilled Team

Trainer Gacril Kachalan said: "The climate doesn't worry us. The food was good, the fields were splendid and the crowds in Chile the best we met on the tour."

Lajos Baroti, Hungarian team captain, thinks he has discovered a chink in the South Americans' armor.

"The South Americans are great individualists, but they hold on to the ball longer than necessary to demonstrate their high technical ability," Baroti says. "When they fail to get an early goal they become unsettled and then anything can happen."

ENGLISH SUFFERING

Patchy Batting, Shoddy Fielding

MADRAS, India (Reuters)—586 runs—more than an Indian player ever scored in a test series before.

The 21-year-old Nawab of Pataudi, recovered from injuries suffered in a car crash in England last July which threatened him with the loss of an eye, made only 222 runs in five innings. But his enterprising knock of 103 in the first innings of the final test contributed much to India's victory.

Defeating England by 128 runs, it took the series by two matches to none, with three drawn.

To some extent luck was on India's side—it won the toss in four or five matches—but it was also the better side. It batted more steadily, bowled more consistently, and its field was at all times good.

POOR TEAM

In contrast, the English team, one of the poorest to represent the country abroad in post-war years, suffered from patchy batting, expensive bowling and shoddy fielding.

Batting stars for India were Vijay Manjrekar and the Nawab of Pataudi. Manjrekar, a 30-year-old batsman with a fine defence and a wide variety of strokes, scored a total of

2 Men Nabbed In Raid

Fast Arrests In Safe Theft

Police pounced on a shack in the Glen Lake area Monday evening and arrested two suspects in connection with a $12,000 robbery in Victoria earlier in the day.

The move came only 12 hours after the robbery from the office of the Don Mee Co., 538 Fisgard, was first reported.

Two men, Marian Miller, 34, unemployed of Vancouver, and Leonard G. Bell, 24, unemployed, of Glen Lake, were charged jointly in city police court this morning with breaking and entering and theft at the Chinatown establishment.

$2,000 BAIL

Miller asked to be remanded to Jan. 18 to consider his election for trial, and Bell was remanded to Jan. 24 to consider his election.

Magistrate William Ostler set bail in each case at $2,000.

Three police departments—city police, Saanich police and Victoria detachment RCMP—combined to make the arrests.

MONEY FOUND

In the shack police found a total of $2,950 in $100 and $50 bills.

Chief John Blackstock said investigations are continuing into the safe cracking—the largest of its type in Victoria for a number of years.

All city detectives were brought in to work on the case Monday.

'Pats' Guard For Opening Of Legislature

A royal guard, a band and 15-gun salute will provide military dash at the opening of the B.C. legislature Jan. 25.

Lieutenant-Governor George Pearkes will perform the traditional opening ceremony at 3 p.m. Then he will read the speech from the throne, outlining government plans for the session.

The 100-man royal guard, drawn up at the front entrance to the legislative buildings, will be supplied by the 1st Battalion Princess Patricia's Canadian Light Infantry under command of Major M. G. Levy.

They will carry both Queen's and regimental colors for the occasion.

Crashing out a 15-gun salute will be members of the 5 (B.C.) Medium Artillery Battery of the Royal Canadian Artillery Militia.

The band of the Royal Canadian Engineers from Chilliwack will play accompaniment.

APPRECIATION NIGHT FEB. 3 FOR PREMIER

An appreciation banquet for Premier W. A. Bennett at the Empress Hotel Feb. 3 will follow the inaugural voyage of the new ferry MV Victoria.

The evening is being arranged by the Victoria Junior Chamber of Commerce, and prominent business leaders, MLAs, and Greater Victoria council members will be extended invitations.

"The purpose of the affair is to provide Victorians with an opportunity to express their gratitude to the Premier for furnishing the ferry system," a Jaycee spokesman said.

FERRY CONTRACT

Firms Swap Charges

A battle over a million dollar B.C. ferry contract raged anew today with Canadian and British companies exchanging charges of seeking preferential treatment and of misleading the public.

The disputed contract is for engines in two new government ferries to be built for the Black Ball service. Premier Bennett is expected to announce a decision later this week.

The adversaries are the British firm of Ruston and Hornsby, low bidder at $1,066,000, and Canadian Fairbanks Morse, second low bidder at $1,126,000.

The British firm says Fairbanks Morse sought preferential treatment on ferry contracts. The Canadian firm hit back with charges its rival was misleading the public.

40% SUBSIDY

The B.C. government has been told by The Federal Maritime Commission that unless it accepts the Canadian bid it will not recommend a 40 per cent subsidy for the project.

A statement today from C. A. Stanwyk, Vancouver general manager for Ruston and Hornsby, accuses Fairbanks Morse of overbidding on previous ferry jobs.

It refers to the ferries Victoria and Vancouver, now under construction for the Swartz Bay-Tsawwassen service, for which the British firm is supplying engines.

Mr. Stanwyk said Fairbanks Morse bid $630,000 per engine for these ferries, known as numbers 3 and 4.

Yet, he adds, the same company bid only $536,250 for each of the Black Ball engines for ferries 5 and 6.

'NOT FAIR VALUE'

"All costs have increased since tenders were called for ferries 3 and 4 and the only conclusion that can be drawn from this large reduction in price is that preferential treatment was expected for ferries 3 and 4 and the price quoted to B.C. taxpayers was not fair value," says the statement.

The statement adds that of the four bids on the new ferries that met specifications, three were British.

"If bids with British engines are not acceptable then one bidder is left with a monopoly which eliminates fair competition and allows an unrestricted price structure," it says.

THREE REASONS

G. P. Clarke, of Fairbanks Morse, said there is perfectly reasonable explanation for the difference in his company's bids on the two sets of ferries. He cited three reasons:

1. His firm bid an extra $80,000 on the first two ships because it understood heavy duty fluid couplings were required; when lighter couplings proposed by Ruston and Hornsby were accepted, his firm cut its new bid accordingly.

2. After "severe criticism" from federal MPs, production at his firm's Kingston plant has been "streamlined" to cut costs.

3. In 1959 Fairbanks Morse made separate bids on two sets of engines; by bidding a lump sum for all engines this time it has further cut production estimates.

He said he did not know why Mr. Stanwyk had made his statement.

"He seems to be trying to influence the general public thinking in the wrong direction," said Mr. Clarke.

Pants Found on Beach Linked to Drownings

Burns Strengthen Boat Fire Theory

A pair of men's gabardine pants, believed to figure in the tragedy which wiped out a family of eight in Georgia Strait on Boxing Day, was washed ashore Monday at the foot of Fenn Road, Cordova Bay.

MORE EVIDENCE of tragedy? Const. Ted Owens holds burned pair of slacks which washed ashore here Monday.

4,000 Homes Without Water As Main Breaks

Water supply to 4,000 Saanich homes in the Mount Douglas-Quadra area dwindled then trickled to nothing as early risers prepared for the day.

For 45 minutes they were faced with the prospect of washing, brushing teeth, showering, making coffee and doing the dishes — without water — after a 12-inch high-pressure main gave out at Blenkinsop and Mount Douglas Cross Road.

ROAD DAMAGE

While thousands of gallons of water gushed into roadside ditches from six feet below ground, and began eroding the street, householders were squeezing their tea kettles for enough water to gargle.

For a while people like dairyman John Pendray, 4160 Blenkinsop, were worried that lack of water would hurt the operation, since it plays an important role in cooling milk for shipment to the bulk buyer.

Waterworks department first started getting calls at 6:45 complaining of low water pressure.

RESTORED IN HOUR

By 7:45, workmen had diverted the main and restored service.

The repair job was expected to take all day.

A municipal engineering department spokesman said the ground where the main lies is of a soft nature and could have caused the line to settle, breaking a flexible coupling.

Heavy truck traffic over the road recently may have aggravated the situation, he said.

Saanich Police Chief Bert Pearson said the legs of the trousers were burned and missing buttons indicated they were torn off in a hurry.

It's believed the garment belonged to James Hendron who with his wife and six children went missing from their home on Stewart Island in the San Juans Dec. 26. They had set out for a nearby island in a 16-foot boat.

CAUSED PANIC

The burned pants reinforced speculation that the boat's motor caught fire, causing the family to panic.

Meanwhile, Chief Pearson said the body of a 14-month-old boy washed up on the shore at Margaret Bay, Gordon Head, has been positively identified as Jeffrey Hendron, youngest of the Hendron family.

The chief said he's received three affidavits from Seattle friends and relatives of the Hendrons who identified the child's clothing.

The affidavits were sent by John Hendron of Seattle, a grandfather.

KNITTED SWEATER

An aunt identified a sweater she knitted, and a grandmother a snowsuit she bought for Jeffrey.

Playmates of the Hendron children also recognized the clothing.

The relatives have accepted the body for burial in Seattle.

CD Courses For Officials Of 26 Areas

Representatives of 26 B.C. municipalities will attend the first of four new courses on civil defence which the provincial government is launching Jan. 22.

The courses — to last four days — will be held at the provincial CD training centre on Keating Cross Road.

They are the first of their kind in Canada, said a B.C. official.

Representing the Greater Victoria area will be Saanich Reeve Stanley Murphy, his civil defence officer D. W. R. Smith; Duncan Mayor J. Dobson and civil defence officers E. C. Bolin and J. Sanders; and North Cowichan Councilor R. Clegg with civil defence officer J. N. D. Thurston.

Other Island officials will come from Port Alberni, Campbell River and Alert Bay.

LATER COURSES

Representatives from Victoria, Oak Bay and Esquimalt will attend one of the three other courses to be held later this year.

Provincial and municipal officials will discuss joint civil defence problems, attend lectures and participate in exercises during the courses.

Directing the course is J. F. A. Lister, provincial civil defence co-ordinator.

ASK The TIMES

Q. When it is 5 p.m. in Edinburgh, Scotland, I would be grateful if you would tell me the exact time it would be in Victoria, B.C., Canada. M. F.

A. Victoria is eight hours behind Greenwich Mean Time. Therefore, when it is 5 p.m. in Edinburgh, it would be 9 a.m. here.

Q. What grounds must a person produce to be granted a divorce in B.C.? M. S.

A. In Canada only adultery is ground for divorce.

Q. With reference to a question to "Ask the Times" on Monday: wasn't J. S. "slightly" off the mark in saying there are 25 billion people living in the world today? L. G.

A. This was a typographical error. The question should have read 2.5 billion.

Anyone wishing a question answered is invited to send the question along to The Times, addressed to "Ask the Times" Editor, questions and answers will be published daily.

All questions should deal with matters of fact and be of general interest. The Times does not undertake to solve conundrums or legal problems. Nor will it attempt to put a value on old coins, stamps or antiques. These should be submitted to a dealer.

HERE ... AND THERE With NORMAN CRIBBENS

Hot news from Ontario:

"ALLISTON, Ont.—A torrent of potato chips splattered through a 37-foot river of hot frying oil this week to launch the third major production line at a $2,000,000 food plant here."

Surely we need more of this graphic reporting, viz.:

An army of Vancouver Island loganberries thundered through the giant presses of a Victoria plant this week to produce yet another flood of fine old B.C. wines ...

Let's catch up with that Ontario tempo!

After Fred Usher's Band had played The Twist at the Empress Hotel supper dance Saturday night, one of our local surgeons stepped up to the bandstand and said:

"Play that again—I need more business!"

Few would suspect that Fred is a determined archer. At a recent auction sale he bid 50 cents and secured an ancient volume entitled Anecdotes of Archery 1842.

This work contains, not only the dates of famous English bow tournaments, but a complete family tree of the outlaw Robin Hood showing that he was a legitimate descendant of the first Earl of Huntingdon.

Yet ignorant modern historians insist he was only a fable.

How old is the parrot in Beacon Hill Park?

A lady from Portland raised the question while attempting to converse with the big red-headed macaw who dominates the Beacon Hill birdhouse and is sometimes suspected of uttering naughty sailor words.

The parks board doesn't know; but sightseeing driver Rebel Mowat provided a clue when he said:

"That bird was old when I was a boy."

Puzzle: How old is Rebel?

Cross-Canada commentary:

George Powell, president of the Canadian Tourist Association, strode into the Empress Hotel lobby Sunday morning wearing a heavy racoon-skin coat.

Even when the sun is warm on your back, you can't afford to throw away a racoon-skin coat, and the reason Mr. Powell wore it was that he had lived through:

Ice and snow in Toronto; a blinding snowstorm in Winnipeg; a chinook in Calgary and heavy rains in Vancouver.

"I felt quite ridiculous when I got to Victoria," he said.

Mr. Powell estimates some 80,000,000 Americans will be "going somewhere" on the North American continent this year.

"Our job is to grab off as many as we can and give them the kind of service they expect," he said.

TOPICS OF THE DAY

Preliminaries for the annual Toastmasters' International "golden gavel" speechmaking contest will be held in City Hall council chambers March 12, 14, 16 and 19, with the finals on Friday, March 26, at 8 p.m.

Any adult in the Victoria area with less than 15 months of public speaking experience may enter by calling EV 4-4898. Speeches may be on any subject and should last from five to seven minutes.

Frank Farr, no fixed address, was sent to prison for two months by Magistrate William Ostler in city police court Monday after he pleaded guilty to theft of four hi-fi records.

Police said Farr was stopped with the records—valued at $16.80—on Broad Street and said he had bought them at the T. Eaton Co.

He had only 10 cents in his pocket at the time and a check showed the records had been stolen from the store.

Snow Continues To 'Sidestep' Most of Island

Snow that hit Vancouver and the mainland today left Vancouver Island almost untouched and weatherman William Mackie said it would likely stay that way.

A fall of 1½ inches was reported in the Jordan River area and there was a light dusting on the Malahat but the highway remained clear.

Mr. Mackie said Victoria could expect a shower of mixed rain and wet snow tonight or early Wednesday but little more.

David F. Chesworth, 5231 Old West Road, was fined $100 and prohibited from driving for one year in city police court today after he admitted taking a car without the owner's consent Dec. 31.

Court was told Chesworth was located by Saanich police at Douglas and University where the car he had taken had run out of gas.

Charles Dickinson, 211 Regina, was fined $250 and had his licence suspended in city police court today when he pleaded guilty to impaired driving.

Police said Dickinson's car was seen weaving from side to side for a distance of three blocks on Government Street Monday evening.

Four vacancies remain in the first Civil Defence rescue course to be offered here since reorganization of Victoria target area.

Instructor Clint Fotheringham said applicants would be accepted as the course opens tonight at 7:30 in Victoria Civil Defence Headquarters, 1840 Blanshard.

When organized two weeks ago, the course was fully enrolled with 24 men, but due to other commitments in connection with their jobs, some of the candidates withdrew.

First P & O Orient liner to visit B.C. waters this year will be the Orca, due off Brochies Ledge at noon Friday to pick up pilot and customs and immigration officials.

She is bound for Vancouver on a world cruise which started in London Nov. 30, touching at Australia, Suva and Hawaii.

A wrangle between city officials and a sign company over alteration of a ferry sign atop the Black Ball ferry building ended Monday in the company's favor.

Following a meeting in the mayor's office, it was decided the city would establish a new filing system to keep track of verbal approval given for such projects.

Victoria Public Library's free film show Wednesday at 3 p.m. will include three color movies: Yoho Wonder Valley, Seasons and The Plywood Story.

Thursday at the same time the library will present a program of recorded music.

Sviatoslav Richter will be heard in the Cesar Franck Piano Quintet and the Concertgebouw Orchestra of Amsterdam will play Mendelssohn's "Calm Sea and Prosperous Voyage" overture.

Buffalo With Beer, Wine, National Dish

OTTAWA (CP)—The northern affairs department is making another attempt to rescue Canadian palates from monotony.

Its latest suggestions include Buffalo cutlets marinated in red wine, buffalo and beer pie, and even a piece de resistance called Sweetgrass Buffalo Tenderloin en chemise Strassbourg.

The latter dish calls for buffalo tenderloin brushed with brandy, alternated with slices of ham that are spread with pate de foie gras, roasted until half-done and sprinkled with chopped truffles, then baked in a pie crust and served with mushroom sauce flavored with Madeira.

The department's campaign is timed for the appearance on the Canadian market today of 250,000 pounds of Sweetgrass Buffalo meat, so-called because it comes from the federal government's pampered herd in Wood Buffalo National Park.

It is the first time such meat has been put on sale by the government, although for several years it has sold meat after culling the herd at Elk Island Park, Alta. The Elk Island meat goes on sale today, too, but separately from the Sweetgrass brand.

HE GIVES AWAY GRAND PRIZES

Is there something you want to know? Do you want to win a set of valuable books or other interesting prizes? Then ask Andy.

Andy will answer questions submitted by child readers and those who submit the questions he selects to answer will receive worthwhile prizes.

The youngster who asks the first question answered each day receives a 20-volume set of the World Book Encyclopedia, and of the second question a Hammond Atlas or Globe.

Andy sends a complete, 20-volume set of the World Book Encyclopedia to Linda Shafer, age 11, of Beach City, Ohio, and Anne Tischer, age 11, of Nashville, Tenn., for their question:

Why Do Onions Make You Cry?

The onion is a member of the plant family Liliaceae, which makes it cousin to the lovely lilies. Its closer cousins are the grassy chive, the chunky leek and the nubby garlic — all strongly scented and flavored. The onion bulb is really a cluster of fleshy leaves, folded one around another. Each leaf grows from the same stem, which is no more than a little dome at the base of the bulb.

This humble cousin of the stately lily can make a strong hero shed streams of salty tears. The juicy leaves which form the bulb of the onion contain a strong chemical oil which seeps out of the plant cells and escapes into the air when the leaves are cut. Sensitive nerve endings in your nose and maybe also around your eyes find this onion chemical very irritating.

When you slice an onion, it fights back with chemical warfare and, in a few minutes, your eyes and nose flood with tears, just as they do when you cry. This onion oil is very volatile, which means it tends to turn to vapor and mix with the air. The assorted gas molecules of the air measure about 600 million to an inch, though we cannot line them up in a row.

In a thimbleful of air, the number of gas molecules is estimated to be about three, followed by 19 zeroes. If a sliced onion is near by, about 30,000 molecules of the strong chemical are mixed in each thimbleful of air. Each gas molecule has room to turn about 10 cartwheels before bumping the next. And they speed around in all directions at more than 1,000 feet a second.

Many Bounces Per Second

The number of collisions is fantastic, though not fatal. At room temperature, gas and vapor molecules behave like very elastic little flying tennis balls. Each collides with a neighbor and bounces off about five billion times a second.

In this helter-skelter, the molecules of vapor from the onion are mixed and spread through the air. In a few minutes the air around the kitchen carries a strong smell of onion. This air touches your skin and eyes and some is taken into your nose. There it touches the sensitive nerve endings of the olfactory organs of smell which are near to other sensitive nerves from the eyes.

If you close your eyes and hold your breath, you may be able to peel an onion without weeping. This, for a while, may prevent the air, carrying its tiny fraction of onion vapor, from reaching the sensitive nerve endings. You will find less trouble if you do the job outdoors in plenty of air where the vapor will be spread more thinly. Another trick is to slice the tasty bulb under water. This slows down the mixing of the volatile oil with the air in the kitchen.

NEW YORK—"Tall gal plays it cool, confident, independent and loyal and gets her guy."

There's your Juliet Prowse story.

Having been a ringsider at Frank Sinatra's life, I now claim that Juliet, with her long, pretty, sexy legs and her cool Continental calm, may succeed in making him a henpecked husband like the rest of us.

About a year ago, Juliet sat around the lounge of the Las Vegas Sands and said, "I love him and I'm going to marry him."

THEY SMILED

Some of them smiled and went off and played roulette but Juliet bagged Romeo.

Juliet and I were having a slight interview here 10 days ago—I think she was having coffee grog—and she spoke of her height being a handicap. Why, it's a tower of strength! I think I've grown... I think I'm now 5' 8" she said.

She was sitting there with those nice legs up, with her young manager, Eddie Goldstone Jr., whom I had cleverly figured out to be marrying her.

"The difficulty," she lamented, "is getting tall boys."

"Most boys are 5' 9" or so, which is fine if I'm in my flats, but if I'm not, what'm I to do?"

Well, Juliet doesn't have to brood any more, because Mrs. Sinatra in the cafes—how would it look?

LOYAL TO HIM

Juliet didn't tell me a single thing about marrying Frank, of course. Though he was calling her every day (I've found out since).

But she was loyal to the Thin One.

"Are you still a member of 'The Group' or 'Cian'?" I asked.

Juliet wrinkled her nose at the term.

"I guess one is naturally a part of it if one is a friend of those people," she said.

Juliet Prowse will ascend to the loftiest heights of Hollywood and Frank will spend his nights at home, a tamed tiger. We'll miss you around the joints, Frank. Maybe she'll let you out one night a week.

Science Now Shrinks Piles Without Pain Or Discomfort

Finds Healing Substance That Relieves Pain And Itching As It Shrinks Hemorrhoids

Toronto, Ont. (Special)—For the first time science has found a new healing substance with the ability to shrink hemorrhoids and to relieve pain and itching. Thousands have been relieved with this inexpensive substance right in the privacy of their own home without any discomfort or inconvenience.

In one hemorrhoid case after another, "very striking improvement" was reported and verified by doctors' observations.

Pain was promptly relieved. And while gently relieving pain, actual reduction or retraction (shrinking) took place.

And most amazing of all—this improvement was maintained in cases where doctors' observations were continued over a period of many months!

In fact, results were so thorough that sufferers were able to make such statements as "Piles have ceased to be a problem!" And among these sufferers were a very wide variety of hemorrhoid conditions, some of even 10 to 20 years' standing.

All this, without the use of narcotics, anesthetics or astringents of any kind. The secret is a new healing substance (Bio-Dyne)—the discovery of a famous scientific institute. Already, Bio-Dyne is in wide use for healing injured tissue on all parts of the body.

This new healing substance is offered in suppository or ointment form called Preparation H. Ask for individually sealed convenient Preparation H Suppositories or Preparation H Ointment with special applicator. Preparation H is sold at all drug stores. Satisfaction guaranteed or money refunded.

A Happy Finish to the Sad Story of Mary Somebody

Mary Somebody was an unhappy and discouraged woman who had become caught in the rut of daily routine, and had lost sight of herself as an individual. She was sunk in apathy and boredom with resulting lack of lustre and fatigue. She was an intelligent woman, but life had somehow snowballed and she was unable to rediscover the attractive person she once was. This can happen to anyone, and too often does.

But something different happened to Mary. For the first time in a long, long while there were little stirrings of ambition toward self-improvement and tiny sparks of interest and hope, with just a whiff of zest for life. This was only momentary but it was important.

Actually, what happened to Mary was that she had finally had it! She did not realize this until she was 25 years old.

Put Fashion in the Kitchen With Latest in Tea Towels

By PENNY SAVER

Look again, girls! High fashion is appearing not only in clothes but in dish towels! One of the newest ideas is Roman stripes in definitely bright colors that would complement any kitchen decor.

Dish towels I'm talking about are made of a light-weight terry cloth with long, soft loops that are pliable enough to dry the inside of jugs and glasses.

Price? You'll be pleased to hear they're only 39 cents each. If you're fashion-conscious, you'll want to run right down and pick up a good supply.

Here's something to please the seamstress in your family—tailor's chalk in pencil form. This chalk will mark all materials, does not flake and is greaseless. When you want more lead you simply pull a string back and unwind the paper. Price is only 35 cents.

Appetites are a little jaded at this time of year and for this reason I'm sure the family will welcome a change at table.

Apple base I've seen has innumerable uses in cooking and eating. Try it undiluted as a syrup for pancakes, toppings and clear sauces. M-m-m-m sumptuous!

Looking for a clear apple drink? Mix one part base to six parts of water and serve chilled. Best of all this syrup can be mixed to make the nicest hot punch ever, by using one part apple base with five parts water and whole cinnamon to taste. Ten-fluid-ounce tins are only 29 cents. You must try some!

Have you an appetite for the new and unusual? Call me and I'll tell you where to find these tea towels and the tailor's chalk.

Penny, EV 2-3131.

SEW SIMPLE

By Eunice Farmer

BODICE WON'T STAY UP SMOOTH

"Dear Eunice: I made my daughter a formal recently and although we used the tiny spaghetti straps at the shoulders, the bodice didn't want to stay up nice and smooth. We lined the bodice and nothing seemed to help."

MRS. M.E.L.

Dear Mrs. M.E.L.: There is a very simple solution to this problem. Your fabric was probably light weight and, even though it was lined, it would still not have enough "body" to stay up without wrinkling.

Sew a strip of featherboning on each side seam. This is hand-whipped to the seam on the wrong side of the bodice. Be sure to cut the boning back from the ends and bring the fabric covering over the ends to avoid the rough edges cutting into you. It may also be necessary to add the featherboning to the darts at the back of the bodice, but usually the side seams will take care of it beautifully.

yesterday, but today she does. She takes an honest look at herself and her life and decides to do something about both. This will not be easy but she takes the first vital steps toward a more vibrant way of living.

She faces up to at least some of the things which have happened to her. She is 20 pounds overweight. Besides that, she is somewhat flabby and her pounds are not attractively distributed because of lack of exercise. Her complexion reflects neglect and her hair and nails are poorly groomed, as are her clothes. She instinctively knows that once she improves her appearance life will become more exciting and that she then will have the courage and the ambition and the self-confidence to add new interests and to expand her horizons.

I always have believed that most women live up to the picture they have of themselves and that a change for the better in appearance has important repercussions on the more serious and valued aspects of life.

Right now thousands of women are following my Eight-Week Self-Improvement Marathon to see how much they can improve their appearance in just eight short weeks, with my help.

We women are pretty much alike! We are influenced by the way we look. When we look our best, we feel younger and look younger and find life more challenging.

The first sound psychological step toward a more vibrant way of life is to improve physical appearance. Along with this comes better health and more energy and more self-confidence. Why not take that first important step?

If you meant to join my Eight-Week Self-Improvement Marathon and failed to do so, send 10 cents and a stamped, self-addressed envelope with your request for the marathon booklet to Josephine Lowman in care of this newspaper.

CAREER GIRLS TALK

Hairdresser Says It Takes Practice to Make Perfect

By JOY POLLARD

Although she is only 18, Bev Tinker has one basic rule of life fixed firmly in her mind and that is—you cannot learn everything in a day.

A full-fledged hairdresser, with a course in a local school of hairdressing behind her, she found out early in her career that you don't learn all the "tricks of the trade" in school. "It's experience and practice that counts," she says—and then tells a good story on her self to prove her statement.

About two months after she started work in a hairdressing salon her boss left her in charge of the shop and went on vacation.

"I was doing a permanent and when it came time to neutralize the hair I discovered I had run out of neutralizer," she reminisces.

The young hairdresser had to make a hasty dash to the storeroom. In her haste, she glanced along a shelf containing several dozen bottles of solutions and picked up one with "neutro something written on it."

Then she dashed back to her "victim" and finished the perm.

"After my boss had returned and after I had used the same 'neutralizer' on one or two more perms I found, to my chagrin, that what I had been using was peroxide," she explains.

Bev still shudders a little when she thinks about it.

LEARN BY MISTAKES "But," she says now trying to stifle a giggle, "surprisingly enough they were the best perms I've ever done."

"We all have to learn through mistakes, only hope mine are a little less foolish next time."

Bev was born in Belleville, Ont., and lived in Winnipeg from early childhood until 1953 when she moved to Victoria with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Tinker, 2280 Bellamy Street, and her two sisters, Jo Anne, 17, and 14-year-old Lynne. She attended Belmont High School before taking the hairdressing course which allows her to operate anywhere in British Columbia and qualifies her to do all beauty treatments.

"I've always loved to work with my hands, so I guess I've come by my career quite honestly," she tells you.

And her friends will add that even when she was in high school she loved to "do" their hair.

Trouble was they got used to this service and on the night before a school dance, Bev was kept busy. So busy, in fact, she didn't have much time to spend on herself.

"I didn't mind," she says with a quiet smile. "It was fun to be able to do it."

A few months ago this young career girl took a notion to try her wings away from home and with a girl friend went apartment hunting. They found a little place and are well settled into a routine now.

"It's great," Bev says, "but I do miss my family!"

"My work? I love it," she concludes.

What more can any career girl ask?

DEAR ABBY...

Make It Doubly Festive!

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: Perhaps a disinterested party can help us to come up with the right answer in a family disagreement. Our son was born on December 25th. Since his birthday falls on Christmas, I would like to celebrate it on January 25th so his birthday can be a special occasion for him and not just all mixed in with Christmas. Most of my relatives say they will give him a birthday gift on his birthday and not a month later. What do you think about this? Would it be unfair to make him wait a month to celebrate or celebrate on the real date and let his birthday get lost in the Christmas rush?

WHAT TO DO.

DEAR WHAT: Celebrate his birthday on the anniversary of his birth. Many people must share their "birthdays" with another memorable occasion. I know. I was born on the 4th of July.

DEAR ABBY: Our daughter is divorced, has two children and is trying to marry a 29-year-old bachelor. Instead of having him come to her home to get better acquainted with her children, she drives to another town to spend the week-ends with him in a fancy motel. Our daughter maintains that if he "falls" hard enough for her he will accept her children later. We didn't raise our daughter to behave this way, Abby, but she is 25 and is her own boss, so there is nothing we can do. We hate to see her make a mess of her life, but she won't listen to us. Can you help?

HER PARENTS.

DEAR PARENTS: Your daughter needs to be told by someone whose opinion she values that no man will marry a divorcee with two children if she will spend weekends with him without benefit of matrimony. Why should he?

DEAR ABBY: My next-door neighbor, whom I have known for two years, told me when she first moved in that she wanted to be alone; and did not care to get friendly with her neighbors. I never visited her, of course, but one day she knocked on my back door and complained that I had never called on her. I was surprised but said nothing and invited her in for a cup of tea anyway.

Later on, about a week later, I knocked on her door to show her my willingness to be friendly, and she told me sharply that she wanted to be alone and didn't care for visitors. Then this morning she came to my door asking why I never came to see her. Do you think she is a mental case? She lives alone. What should I do about it? I am beginning to fear her.

LITTLE WHITE HOUSE.

DEAR LITTLE: Find out if she has any relatives or close friends to whom you can report her condition. She appears to be irrational.

How is the world treating you? Unload your problems on Abby, care of this paper.

Denise Lor, Alan King Highlight Garry Moore's Hour at 8 and 10

By PHIL LEE, Times TV Editor

CATCHING UP—I failed to mention it, but I did enjoy Du Pont Show of the Week's series of candid movies by comic Ken Murray under the heading, "Hollywood My Home Town," that held Channel 5 a couple of Sundays back. There were, as the saying goes, real stars in those early days of pioneer movie-making.

One show I could never understand why they dropped was "The Law and Mr. Jones," starring James Whitmore. If it had to be axed then 90 per cent of the half-hour dramas should have been killed off with it.

Therefore it was good to read that the series will be resurrected by ABC-TV and scheduled to return to Channel 4 on April 10. It's said to be the first time a film series which was dropped has ever returned to the network.

LAST RATINGS at hand show that Bob Hope's hour topped the Nielsen list for the week ending Dec. 17, just ahead of the MGM classic, "Wizard of Oz," on its third time around as a holiday special. Next in line were three westerns: Wagon Train, Bonanza and Gunsmoke. Following the oaters were Candid Camera, Dr. Kildare, Hazel, Red Skelton, Perry Mason, Singalong with Mitch, Garry Moore and last in the top 15—The Defenders.

Speaking about Perry Mason: The CBS-TV perennial has received a renewal for next season with the principals being awarded new contracts plus pay hikes. Dr. Kildare is doing so well in the ratings that it has received a renewal for six more segments that will round out its season. Also renewed were Tales of Wells Fargo and Tall Man.

A TAPED interview with U.S. Marine Lt.-Col. John H. Glenn Jr., astronaut selected for America's first man-in-orbit flight, and an examination of the tremendous industrial complex supporting Project Mercury space explorations will be part of a full hour NBC News special next Sunday, 6.30 to 7.30 p.m.

TCA's Here To Stay, Chamber Told

Firm assurance that Trans-Canada Air Lines will not give up its Victoria-Vancouver-Seattle service, even if a helicopter operation is established between Vancouver and Victoria, was given Monday noon at a meeting of the transportation and harbor group of Victoria Chamber of Commerce.

"The assurance was given in a statement authorized by the president and board of directors of TCA and read by the air line's local manager R. A. Kolb at the meeting called to discuss implications of a proposed application by Okanagan Helicopters Ltd. for the service."

WON'T INTERVENE

"The statement said: 'TCA has no intention whatsoever of giving up its Seattle-Vancouver-Victoria service. The company does not plan to buy any helicopters itself but it would not intervene in any application made by the Okanagan group.'

"Even if, and when, a helicopter service does start, it is TCA's view that because of the limitations of helicopter operations, there will still exist a need for a fixed-wing aircraft operation both as a local service and as part of TCA's transcontinental and overseas operations. The company will continue to operate them to the best of its ability."

AT REST

Chairman Capt. George Veres said the TCA statement set at rest the group's principal concern over the proposed helicopter service—that it would result in TCA pulling out of Victoria.

It was decided that no further action should be taken until Okanagan had made its submission to the Air Transport Board. The company originally sought the route in a submission made nearly two years ago but, in view of changing conditions has requested that it be given until March 31 to present a new proposal.

COUNCIL BACKED

In other business the chamber group:
Endorsed the city council's efforts to have Ottawa study a proposal to strengthen and widen the Causeway to permit dredging of the Inner Harbor;
Received a report from the Port San Juan breakwater committee that federal funds had been allocated for a model study of the Port Renfrew Project;
Tabled a letter from Public Works Minister David Walker stating the group would have to make out a better case for a breakwater at Cadboro Bay before federal action would be taken.

Won by Acclamation

WHITEHORSE, Y.T. (CP)—Herbert E. Boyd Monday was elected by acclamation in a Whitehorse East byelection called to fill a vacancy on the territorial council following the ouster of Norman Chamberlain last Nov. 10.
Mr. Chamberlain's seat was declared vacant by council speaker J. O. Livesey after a firm in which Mr. Chamberlain at one time held an interest had been awarded a council works project.

HAULING OF CHIPS was resumed today at Mesachie Lake, but on Monday this CPR truck and two others like it were brought to a standstill by unemployed IWA drivers of a Duncan trucking business. (Photo by Agnes Flett.)

VANCOUVER ISLAND ROUNDUP

CPR Trucks Go Through Picket Line at Mesachie

DUNCAN—CPR Merchandising Service trucks today resumed hauling of chips from Hillcrest Lumber Co. mill at Mesachie Lake despite an information picket line.

The CPR trucks were brought to a standstill Monday when four unemployed chip truck drivers, formerly employed by private contractors, formed an information picket line at the entrance to the mill.

"STOLE OUR JOBS"

They carried signs reading: "CPR Cheap Contract Stole Our Jobs."

The drivers are members of Local 1-80, IWA. The move by the union resulted in several CPR chip trucks arriving at the mill and returning to Duncan empty. The drivers refused to cross the picket line.

The dispute arose when the CPR announced some time ago it was entering the chip-hauling business and would start transporting pulp chips from Mesachie Lake to Crofton.

RAILWAY UNION

Drivers of the CPR trucks who went through the picket line today are members of the Canadian Brotherhood of Railway Employees' Union.

An IWA official said the CPR drivers were ordered by two officials of their union to cross the picket line.

He said this matter is under discussion between the two unions, and new developments in the dispute could be expected momentarily.

Meanwhile, a spokesman for the local haulers said that they started hauling chips in 1958 at a time when conditions were much more difficult than now. He claimed the CPR is using its large timber holdings to force chip hauling away from local business.

LADYSMITH—Baden Millard of Chemainus was elected chairman of Ladysmith School District at a meeting here. H. J. Edwards was elected vice-chairman.

NANAIMO—A meeting will be called in February to name five trustees for Northfield district.

NOT UP TO PSYCHIATRISTS ALONE

Mental Illness in Crime Studied

OTTAWA (CP)—Psychiatrists should not alone bear the responsibility of determining whether prisoners suffering from mental disorders should be confined in prisons or hospitals for indefinite periods.

A committee of the Canadian Mental Health Association makes this recommendation in a report on the relation of mental illness to crime which is being studied at the second Canadian Institute on mental health services.

The report, prepared after a six-year study, states that all criminals require some psychiatric care "in that there is a psychiatric component or aspect to criminal behavior."

Psychiatrists face two problems in connection with indeterminate sentences, the report said.

Under lieutenant-governor's warrants prisoners with mental disorders were held indefinitely until they were well enough to stand trial or be discharged.

SEEKS JOINT DECISIONS

"The responsibility for recommending that the individual is well enough to move on is placed upon the psychiatrist, it is suggested that this decision should be as much as possible a joint one with responsibility being shared by the provincial attorney-general's office and the psychiatrist. The decision should be made at a joint conference."

The second problem arose in cases where a prisoner was sentenced to an indeterminate period for medical treatment instead of going to a prison. This often occurred in cases of habitual criminals and criminal sexual psychopaths.

"With the present lack of knowledge concerning the natural history of crime, and the uncertainty of our predictive techniques, it may be difficult to know really when to release an individual and, if there is no clear end point, the prisoner himself may have nothing to work towards," the report says.

"There is some question about placing the responsibility of termination of the indefinite sentence on psychiatric personnel. It is recommended that a review board be set up to share responsibility for this. Membership should cover the psychiatric services, the provincial attorney-general's department and perhaps additional representation."

The report notes that the royal commission on criminal law relating to criminal sexual psychopaths recommends that cases of prisoners sentenced as sexual psychopaths be reviewed every three years by competent judicial authority.

More Mental Cases Back to Hospitals

By JOHN F. BIRD

OTTAWA (CP)—The medical profession has found that an increasing number of patients discharged from mental hospitals are able to rejoin society only on a temporary basis.

This is one of a multitude of mental health problems outlined in an interim report by the Canadian Mental Health Association which will be studied at the Second Canadian Institute on mental health services opening here today.

"The increase in our ability to produce symptomatic remission has resulted in a rise in discharges of mental patients but this has been accompanied by a greater, even alarming, increase in our readmission rates," one report says.

"The ability to produce symptomatic improvements has not been accompanied by any greater ability to maintain patients, once improved, free of symptoms following discharge."

The report, written by a committee of the Canadian Mental Health Association, suggested two lines of enquiry to solve the problem.

The first was whether methods of treating the mentally ill made relapse more or less likely, depending on the method used. The evaluation of treatment can no longer be based on ability to produce symptomatic remission "but must also be in terms of the probability of relapse."

Secondly, the report says, attention must be paid to the psychological and social setting in the hospital and community to stabilize patients after discharge. Therapeutic programs must extend beyond the hospital to the community and include social and psychological rehabilitation in the community.

It also proposes that mental hospitals be decentralized and operated like other hospitals for sick people. Instead of being operated by provincial governments, they should be administered at the community level.

He starts a B.C. tour of speaking engagements Wednesday and will be in Victoria Jan. 24 for a meeting of directors of the B.C. Social Credit League.

On Wednesday Mr. Thompson will visit party officials in Nanaimo and attend an evening banquet at Courtenay.

He will also spend time in Vancouver and Prince George.

Quadruplets Born

RUSE, Bulgaria (Reuters)—Ivanka Gocheva, 22, gave birth Sunday to quadruplets—two boys and two girls—the Bulgarian news agency announced Monday.

The heavy burden of teachers' paperwork in three junior high schools will be lightened by the employing of additional part-time stenographers.

The hiring of help to bring S. J. Willis Junior High, Esquimalt Junior High and Central Junior High up to B.C. standards was approved by the board.

Greater Victoria student musicians will play at the Canadian Music Educators' Conference in Vancouver April 26 to 28.

School trustees approved the spending of $390 for the transportation of 125 members of the symphony orchestra and junior string orchestra by four chartered buses.

Students will pay their own ferry fares, and will be accompanied by teachers.

VANCOUVER BLANKETED BY 4 INCHES OF SNOW

VANCOUVER (CP)—The Greater Vancouver area slithered through its first major snowfall of the season today.

More than four inches of fresh snow blanketed the city and surrounding areas reported up to seven inches.

Motorists reported driving hazardous on streets made slippery by wet snow. But no serious accidents were reported.

Two Ships Sunk, 17 Lives Lost

LONDON (AP)—Gales raging around Britain and Ireland were believed today to have sunk at least two small ships with the loss of 17 lives. But a third vessel, missing for a week and presumed lost, turned out safe with its crew of nine.

Small shipping headed for port as wind gusts up to 70 miles an hour whipped the waters of the North Sea, Irish Sea and English Channel.

The French motor trawler Matelot, last heard of nearly two weeks ago, was given up for lost with her crew of 12 on a trip from Lorient to the Irish Sea fishing grounds. Also believed sunk was the 115-ton Belgian motor trawler Zeebrugge, missing with five aboard.

The 450-ton Dutch motor coaster Ellewoutsdijk, missing with a crew of nine since last Wednesday while en route from Belfast to Westport, Ireland, turned up safely in Ireland.

Overnight trains from London to Glasgow were delayed by deep floodwaters around the Scottish city of Dumfries.

West Yields to Soviet On A-Test Talks Move

GENEVA (AP)—The United States and Britain formally agreed today to abandon the three-power nuclear test-ban talks and refer the issue to the disarmament negotiations expected to open in Geneva next March.

Charles Stelle of the United States and Britain's Sir Michael Wright announced their governments' agreement to this Soviet demand at the 350th session of the nuclear conference which resumed here after a Christmas recess.

Western conference sources said the two negotiators offered the transfer of the test-ban talks in view of the Soviet Union's adamant refusal even to discuss a Western draft test-ban treaty providing international controls.

The two powers, however, rejected the Soviet plan for an uncontrolled moratorium on nuclear weapons testing, submitted by the Russians two months ago.

The plan made no provisions for international test-ban controls demanded by the U.S. and Britain.

EXAMINE ISSUE
"The Western delegations," a joint British-American statement issued today "made it clear that they would agree to examine the nuclear test-ban issue in the context of disarmament negotiations only because the Soviet government has insisted that it will only discuss international controls in this context."

"Once disarmament negotiations have resumed, the United States and Britain will work for the conclusion of a nuclear test-ban treaty as a matter of highest priority."

Western conference sources said Russian negotiator Semyon Tsarapkin told the western delegates he would submit the British-American proposal to his government. He made no preliminary reply. The next meeting was set for Friday.

The Western negotiators were hoping to have Moscow's formal answer by then, but Tsarapkin cautioned it might take longer.

IN AUSTRALIA

125 Men Trapped By Fire

MELBOURNE (Reuters)—Some 125 firefighters were reported trapped today as Australian forest fires raged out of control in an arc of 100 miles north and northeast of here.

One group of 100 was trapped at Christmas Hill, near the vacation resort of Healesville, and 25 at Halorama, a town whose inhabitants were evacuated Monday night.

Earlier today, four persons—a man, a woman and two children—were found burned to death at a roadside in the blaze area.

The fires, racing before a 50-mile-an-hour wind, were sweeping across hilltops north of Mount Dandenong, 30 miles east of here. Police evacuated the villages of Woort Yallock and Launching Place in their path.

All available firefighting equipment was rushed to the area where police reports said dense clouds of smoke blotted out the sun.

At least 48 houses have been destroyed in the fires which have been burning for 48 hours.

Businessmen Of U.K. Spy Says Ex-Red

LONDON (Reuters)—A man described as a former lieutenant in the East German spy service said in a television interview Monday night that many businessmen in London are working as agents for East Germany.

The man, who appeared on the BBC, said the East German spy service keeps dossiers on many Britons likely to attend trade fairs behind the Iron Curtain.

Attempts are frequently made to induce businessmen to attend fairs such as the Leipzig Trade Fair to work for the Communists, he said.

If a man is known to be short of money an East German agent will approach him and offer him money, he said. And if he is known to have Communist sympathies an appeal to his political beliefs is made.

REJECTS BID

Pro-Western Premier Prince Boun Oum today turned down an appeal by the co-chairman of the 14-nation Laos conference to attend a plenary session in Geneva and endorse the work of the parley to date.

Boun Oum's refusal further dashes hopes for a successful compromise in the Laos crisis.

QUICK KAYO IN BATTLE OF MOOSE VS CABOOSE

JASPER, Alta. (CP)—A huge bull moose charged a Canadian National Railways freight late Monday and derailed the caboose at the end of a 59-car westbound train, railway officials said in Jasper today.

The incident occurred between Guilford, B.C., and Prince George. Guilford is 173 miles west of Jasper.

Officials said the moose was killed. None of the crew was injured, but the freight was delayed until equipment arrived at the scene and loaded the caboose back on the tracks.

20% Tariff Cut Agreed

(Times News Services)

BRUSSELS—The United States and the European Common Market have reached agreement on a mutual 20-per-cent reduction on tariffs on their industrial products and on some agricultural products, a Common Market spokesman announced tonight.

Agreements on industrial products had been generally predicted but any agricultural tariffs had been expected to be deferred until later talks.

The treaty resulting from this agreement will be signed within a few days by the permanent representatives of the U.S. and the ECM in Geneva.

NO DETAILS

In accordance with General Agreement on Tariff and Trade regulations, no details of the agreement will be made public before the treaty has been signed.

At a news conference held in Brussels ECM headquarters immediately after the four-day talks ended, it was pointed out that the agricultural part of the deal was "perhaps the most difficult, but also the most important."

It was stressed that negotiations on tariff cuts under GATT regulations with the United States were the most important from the ECM point of view, as the United States is the most prominent big trading partner of the Common Market.

"The negotiations covered an enormous mass of products which play a role of paramount importance in the economic life of the two parties," the spokesman said.

"If we had not reached this agreement the consequences would have been disastrous," he added.

In Ottawa, Finance Minister Fleming reserved detailed comment until he studies the agreement in detail, but he said Canada may benefit indirectly.

Gizenga's Troops Blamed

(Times News Services)

LEOPOLDVILLE—Congo Premier Cyrille Adoula said today he had received reports that 11 white missionaries and seven African Roman Catholic nuns had been massacred by troops loyal to Stanleyville strongman Antoine Gizenga.

Adoula also announced that he had fired Gizenga as vice-premier of the central Congo government.

Adoula said the reports said the massacre was carried out by troops led by Col. Joseph Pakassa, a cousin of the pro-Communist Gizenga.

IN KATANGA

A Belgian radio broadcast in Brussels said a report from Bukavu, Kivu province, said the Stanleyville troops killed the missionaries in Kongolo, in north Katanga province.

On New Year's Day, Katanga President Moise Tshombe said his troops had been forced to pull out of Kongolo in the face of heavy pressure from United Nations and central government forces.

But later reports indicated these attacking troops were Gizenga's men, and not those of the central government.

A dispatch from an Associated Press correspondent at Bukavu, said "missionaries who escaped the massacre reported the violence to the bishop of Bukavu."

The bodies of the 18 were recovered, the dispatch said. Another missionary was taken away and has not been heard from since.

A great number of persons in the Negro population of Kongolo were also reported to have been killed.

No Response By Bennett

OTTAWA (CP)—Finance Minister Fleming said today he has had no response from Premier Bennett of British Columbia to his suggestion that another date be set for a meeting on financing the Columbia River power development.

Premier Bennett and Attorney-General Robert Bonner both left Victoria last Thursday, bound for eastern Canada.

Mr. Bennett said he had a business appointment in Toronto on the Friday, but declined to state the nature of the business.

However, they both apparently stayed in the east over the weekend, and may have gone on to Ottawa. Neither one is expected in Victoria again until Thursday.

SPACE SHIP A-BLAST IN 1908

Science Fiction or Fact?

OTTAWA (CP)—A magazine published by the Soviet Embassy says hundreds of young Russian scientists and engineers support a theory that a spaceship crashed in Siberia in 1908, touching off a nuclear explosion.

The theory is advanced as the explanation for a gigantic blast which occurred in Central Siberia June 30, 1908, and which has never been explained. The shock was recorded on earthquake instruments around the world.

An article in the current issue of Soviet Ujyon Today, a slick-paper monthly, says the blast was generally blamed on a meteorite but that six expeditions to the site failed to turn up any of the usual evidence of a meteorite's fall.

The first party to reach the scene reported that trees lay in clinders, set in neat rows, radiating 30 miles from the centre of the explosion. Yet at the blast point all the charred trees remained upright.

A-BLAST PATTERN

Five years ago A Soviet engineer, Alexander Kazantsev, wrote that the appearance of the blasted forest was similar to the destructive pattern of an atomic explosion in the atmosphere.

He noted 1908 reports of a mushroom cloud and several nights of glowing skies. These, he said, supported his explanation that an atomic-powered spaceship from another planet crashed and exploded its fuel supply.

Kazantsev's theory, the article adds, is accepted "by hundreds of young scientists and engineers."

The Russian Academy of Sciences, however, leans more to a new idea that a small comet entered the earth's atmosphere and blew to bits. This indication had come from reports of a 70-man academy team which did an on-the-spot investigation in late 1960.

Furthermore, the article also points out that Kazantsev is active in another field besides engineering. He's a well-known writer of science fiction.

Centennial Flashback...

THIS DAY IN VICTORIA - 1862

JANUARY 16

Continuing inclement weather made itself felt in at least two disparate areas—crime and legislation. There was none of either.

For three days, no police court was held, as not even a drunk sleeping it off in the snow was apprehended.

As for legislation, on this day, with the temperature hovering around the 18 mark, only the Hon. member from Nanaimo turned up at the house. Even Mr. Speaker was absent.

The barkentine W. B. Scranton dropped anchor in the Outer Harbor, 14 days out of San Francisco. She spent five days in the Straits, and her master, a Capt. Brown, reported sighting two other barks in the Straits, one of which he presumed to be ashore, but didn't know for sure.

Dust free Nanaimo coal was offered at $10 a ton, free delivery.

Job Picture Changes

By GORDON BELL

Times Business Editor

Even with all the rosy predictions of renewed prosperity in Canada this year, an air of nagging pessimism remains as to prospects for greatly increasing employment.

The reason is to be found in an interesting set of figures from the Dominion Bureau of Statistics reproduced in the current Financial Post showing the changing Canadian employment picture in the years 1946 to 1959.

What the figures show is that jobs are disappearing faster in some sectors of the economy than they are being created in others leading to the so-called technological unemployment.

Agriculture, for instance, which in 1946 employed 25.4 per cent of Canada's total working force, by 1959 accounted for only 11.8 per cent.

Manufacturing of all kinds, which in 1946 accounted for 26 per cent of employment, had dropped back 13 years later to 25.5 per cent.

Construction gained from 4.8 per cent in 1946 to 7.

1930 Precedent Cited in Checkoff Case

The B.C. government has "abused its authority" by refusing trade unions the right to collect membership dues for a political party, Vancouver lawyer T. R. Berger told the Court of Appeal Monday afternoon.

Mr. Berger, representing the Oil, Chemical and Atomic Workers' Union, claimed that the government's Bill 42, passed by the B.C. legislature last winter, is beyond the power of a provincial government.

The bill withdraws the right of trade unions to use funds collected from members by the checkoff for political purposes.

REPEALED IN 1930

Mr. Berger said the legislation was "almost identical" with an act passed by the Parliament of Canada in 1920 and repealed in 1930. This act decreed that no company or association other than one incorporated for political purposes should contribute money to any political party or candidate.

The fact that this legislation was repealed as unconstitutional set a precedent against the legality of British Columbia's Bill 42, Mr. Berger said.

The Alberta Social Credit legislature, he added, had tried to pass laws interfering with the freedom of trade unions and of the press, Mr. Berger added, and these had been declared invalid.

"Trade unions in this country existed before the Labor Relations Act and their members have the right to freedom of association in pursuance of their objectives.

"A trade union is a voluntary association and its members have the right to support the party of their choice.

No trade union would support a political party without consulting its membership."

REVERSAL ASKED

Mr. Berger asked the Appeal Court to reverse the judgment of Mr. Justice Norman Whittaker in Supreme Court last Aug. 25.

Mr. Justice Whittaker upheld Bill 42, denying that it interfered with growth of political parties; curtailed freedom of unions to participate in politics, or interfered with federal elections or abridged civil rights.

Mr. Berger insisted that the judge had erred in not declaring the bill beyond the competence of the B.C. legislature or any other provincial body.

"This legislation is a usurpation of federal power," he said, "in that it relates to funds used for federal as well as political elections."

'WE, TOO, HAVE WALLS' SAYS MAYOR

A study to uncover all the facts and an approach to amalgamation problems without prejudice was asked Monday by Mayor R. B. Wilson.

Speaking to a luncheon meeting of the Gyro Club, Mayor Wilson said this method would bring the right answer to present problems.

"I believe we must respect the opinions and rights of our adjoining municipalities," said the mayor. "If, after adequate study, the facts do not indicate that consolidation of civic government is advisable in Greater Victoria, then I would be willing to accept the situation as it is then."

Referring to the Berlin Wall, the mayor pointed out that "we, too, have walls, intermunicipal walls . . . although far less ominous than the Berlin one . . . but walls between neighbors are poor things in principle."

Two Admit Supermarket Burglary Try

Two men found on the roof of a supermarket Saturday night—with burglar tools in their possession—pleaded guilty in Saanich police court Monday to attempting to break into the premises.

Charged were Floyd Edward MacLean and James Robert Russell, both of no fixed address, who were caught at Oakcrest Market, 3475 Quadra.

MacLean also pleaded guilty to a charge of attempting to break into the same premises Jan. 9 and with breaking and entering and theft there Jan. 6. Saanich police said he took about $230 on the latter occasion.

HAD KNIFE

Russell pleaded guilty to having a spring knife in his possession when caught on Saturday.

Magistrate William Ostler remanded both men for a probation report and sentence to Jan. 23.

Immediately following in city police court MacLean admitted to breaking and entering the D. and D. Tire Co., Blanshard Street, Friday night and stealing $1.

Again he was remanded to Jan. 23.

Anka Backs Fuel Plan

OTTAWA (CP)—An Ottawa company whose backers include singer Paul Anka said today it is seeking authority to pipe fuel oil directly into homes in Ontario.

Armstrong Construction and Equipment Limited said it will place its proposal before the Ontario Fuel Board in Toronto Tuesday.

Larry Armstrong, company head, said that pumping fuel oil directly into the home would eliminate home storage and save the consumer as much as two cents a gallon.

He's First-Rate On Fifth Street

Six corner lot homeowners on Fifth Street will see their new sidewalk taxes reduced because one of them won his appeal Monday before the city's court of revision on local improvements.

Sue Hong Bin, 2909 Fifth Street, pointed out the longest side of his property ran along Fifth but his house faced Topaz Avenue. As a result, he claimed, he should have been charged at a reduced flankage instead of frontage rate for the sidewalk put in on Fifth.

City engineer J. C. Garnett and city assessor Alfred Joyce agreed that he should be given a break in the interpretation of the Municipal Act.

SAME FOR ALL

But city solicitor T. P. O'Grady said Mr. Bin could be relieved only if the others in the same situation also were relieved.

As a result, court of revision decided to approve a formula which one city official said would reduce the local improvement taxes for five other homeowners on Fifth, between Finlayson and Vista.

Cost to be picked up by the city will be $884, court was told.

Object to Prayers

SACRAMENTO, Calif. (AP)—A faculty committee at Sacramento State College is looking into the customary practice of saying prayers at the beginning and end of commencement exercises. A petition with 14 faculty signatures protesting the prayers as distasteful was received last spring. The committee appointed to investigate sent questionnaires to all faculty members asking whether the faculty would like to see the prayers abolished.

Oak Bay Projects To Cost $90,800

Approval of $90,800 worth of parking space for the village shopping district.

Other items approved by the committee were extension of 16-inch watermain ($22,000), installation of water pumps at Uplands and Plymouth stations ($8,000), and completion of mercury street lighting on Cadboro Bay, north of Lansdowne ($5,700).

Approval of $90,800 worth of winter works projects was recommended to council Monday night by Oak Bay works parks committee in its first meeting as a single unit.

Largest item on the list was a $26,000 expenditure for a phase of boulevard sprinkler installations, and the smallest estimate, $5,600, is for extension of a surface drain outfall across Willows Beach at the foot of Estevan.

ONE REJECTED

The committee, with Coun. Fred Robinson in the chair, turned back only one item to the estimates committee—$12,000 for proposed improvements at Uplands Park.

It is planned eventually to level some areas for unorganized playing fields, install drainage and lagoon systems, gravelled paths and new trees in the southwest section.

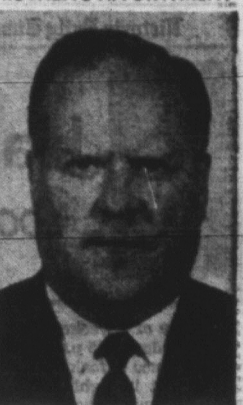

The council will be asked to consent to a $23,500 widening of Musgrave Street between Dalhousie and Bowker to continue work completed a year ago.

WIDENING ESTIMATE

Engineer Geoffrey White was asked to prepare an estimate on the cost of widening the Oak Bay Avenue end of the street, which at that point is Hampshire. The committee will consider the possibility of initiating this project under local improvement plan.

It was noted the wider street in this area will help provide

Hot news from Ontario:
"ALLISTON, Ont.—A torrent of potato chips splattered through a 37-foot river of hot frying oil this week to launch the third major production line at a $2,000,000 food plant here."

Surely we need more of this graphic reporting, viz.:
"An army of Vancouver Island loganberries thundered through the giant presses of a Victoria plant this week to produce yet another flood of fine old B.C. wines..."
Let's catch up with that Ontario tempo!

After Fred Usher's Band had played The Twist at the Empress Hotel, supper dance Saturday night, one of our local surgeons stepped up to the bandstand and said:

"Play that again—I need more business!"
Few would suspect that Fred is a determined archer. At a recent auction sale he bid 50 cents and secured an ancient volume entitled Anecdotes of Archery 1842.

This work contains, not only the dates of famous English bow tournaments, but a complete family tree of the outlaw Robin Hood showing that he was a legitimate descendant of the first Earl of Huntingdon.

Yet ignorant modern historians insist he was only a fable.

How old is the parrot in Beacon Hill Park?
A lady from Portland raised the question while attempting to converse with the big red-headed macaw who dominates the Beacon Hill birdhouse and is sometimes suspected of uttering naughty sailor words.

The parks board doesn't know; but sightseeing driver Rebel Mowat provided a clue when he said:
"That bird was old when I was a boy."
Puzzle: How old is Rebel?

Cross-Canada commentary:
George Powell, president of the Canadian Tourist Association, strode into the Empress Hotel lobby Sunday morning wearing a heavy racoon-skin coat.

Even when the sun is warm on your back, you can't afford to throw away a racoon-skin coat, and the reason Mr. Powell wore it was that he had lived through:

Ice and snow in Toronto; a blinding snowstorm in Winnipeg; a chinook in Calgary and heavy rains in Vancouver.

"I felt quite ridiculous when I got to Victoria," he said.

Mr. Powell estimates some 80,000,000 Americans will be "going somewhere" on the North American continent this year.

"Our job is to grab off as many as we can and give them the kind of service they expect," he said.

TOPICS OF THE DAY

Preliminaries for the annual Toastmasters' International "golden-gavel" speechmaking contest will be held in City Hall council chambers March 12, 14, 16 and 19, with the finals on Friday, March 26, at 8 p.m.

Any adult in the Victoria area with less than 15 months of public speaking experience may enter by calling EV 4-4898. Speeches may be on any subject and should last from five to seven minutes.

Frank Farr, no fixed address, was sent to prison for two months by Magistrate William Ostler in city police court Monday after he pleaded guilty to theft of four hi-fi records.

Police said Farr was stopped with the records—valued at $16.80—on Broad Street and said he had bought them at the T. Eaton Co.

He had only 10 cents in his pocket at the time and a check showed the records had been stolen from the store.

Snow Continues To 'Sidestep' Most of Island

Snow that hit Vancouver and the mainland today, left Vancouver Island almost untouched and weatherman William Mackie said it would likely stay that way.

A fall of 1½ inches was reported in the Jordan River area and there was a light dusting on the Malahat but the highway remained clear.

Mr. Mackie said Victoria could expect a shower of mixed rain and wet snow tonight or early Wednesday but little more.

David F. Chesworth, 5231 Old West Road, was fined $100 and prohibited from driving for one year in city police court today after he admitted taking a car without the owner's consent Dec. 31.

Court was told Chesworth was located by Saanich police at Douglas and University where the car he had taken had run out of gas.

Charles Dickinson, 211 Regina, was fined $250 and had his licence suspended in city police court today when he pleaded guilty to impaired driving.

Police said Dickinson's car was seen weaving from side to side for a distance of three blocks on Government Street Monday evening.

Four vacancies remain in the first Civil Defence rescue course to be offered here since reorganization of Victoria target area.

Instructor Clint Fotheringham said applicants would be accepted as the course opens tonight at 7.30 in Victoria Civil Defence Headquarters, 1840 Blanshard.

When organized two weeks ago, the course was fully enrolled with 24 men, but due to other commitments in connection with their jobs, some of the candidates withdrew.

2 Men Nabbed In Raid

Fast Arrests In Safe Theft

Police pounced on a shack in the Glen Lake area Monday evening and arrested two suspects in connection with a $12,000 robbery in Victoria earlier in the day.

The move came only 12 hours after the robbery from the office of the Don Mee Co., 588 Fisgard, was first reported.

Two men, Marian Miller, 34, unemployed of Vancouver, and Leonard G. Bell, 24, unemployed, of Glen Lake, were charged jointly in city police court this morning with breaking and entering and theft at the Chinatown establishment.

$2,000 BAIL

Miller asked to be remanded to Jan. 18 to consider his election for trial, and Bell was remanded to Jan. 24 to consider his election.

Magistrate William Ostler set bail in each case at $2,000. Three police departments—city police, Saanich police and Victoria detachment RCMP—combined to make the arrests.

MONEY FOUND

In the shack police found a total of $2,950 in $100 and $50 bills.

Chief John Blackstock said investigations are continuing into the safe cracking—the largest of its type in Victoria for a number of years.

All city detectives were brought in to work on the case Monday.

'Pats' Guard For Opening Of Legislature

A royal guard, a band and 15-gun salute will provide military dash at the opening of the B.C. legislature Jan. 25.

Lieutenant Governor George Pearkes will perform the traditional opening ceremony at 3 p.m. Then he will read the speech from the throne, outlining government plans for the session.

The 100-man royal guard, drawn up at the front entrance to the legislative buildings, will be supplied by the 1st Battalion Princess Patricia's Canadian Light Infantry under command of Major M. G. Levy.

They will carry both Queen's and regimental colors for the occasion.

Crashing out a 15-gun salute will be members of the 5 (B.C.) Medium Artillery Battery of the Royal Canadian Artillery Militia.

APPRECIATION NIGHT FEB. 3 FOR PREMIER

An appreciation banquet for Premier W. A. Bennett at the Empress Hotel Feb. 3 will follow the inaugural voyage of the new ferry MV Victoria.

The evening is being arranged by the Victoria Junior Chamber of Commerce, and prominent business leaders, MLAs, and Greater Victoria council members will be extended invitations.

"The purpose of the affair is to provide Victorians with an opportunity to express their gratitude to the Premier for furnishing the ferry system," a Jaycee spokesman said.

FERRY CONTRACT

Firms Swap Charges

A battle over a million dollar B.C. ferry contract raged anew today with Canadian and British companies exchanging charges of seeking preferential treatment and of misleading the public.

The disputed contract is for engines in two new government ferries to be built for the Black Ball service. Premier Bennett is expected to announce a decision later this week.

The adversaries are the British firm of Ruston and Hornsby, low bidder at $1,066,000, and Canadian Fairbanks Morse, second low bidder with $1,126,000.

The British firm says Fairbanks Morse sought preferential treatment on ferry contracts. The Canadian firm hit back with charges its rival was misleading the public.

40% SUBSIDY

The B.C. government has been told by The Federal Maritime Commission that unless it accepts the Canadian bid it will not recommend a 40 per cent subsidy for the project.

A statement today from C. A. Stanwyk, Vancouver general manager for Ruston and Hornsby, accuses Fairbanks Morse of overbidding on previous ferry jobs.

It refers to the ferries Victoria and Vancouver, now under construction for the Swartz Bay-Tasowassen service, for which the British firm is supplying engines.

Mr. Stanwyk said Fairbanks Morse bid $630,000 per engine for these ferries, known as numbers 3 and 4.

Yet, he adds, the same company bid only $536,250 for each of the Black Ball engines for ferries 5 and 6.

'NOT FAIR VALUE'

"All costs have increased since tenders were called for ferries 3 and 4 and the only conclusion that can be drawn from this large reduction in price is that preferential treatment was expected for ferries 3 and 4 and the price quoted to B.C. taxpayers was not fair value," says the statement.

The statement adds that of the four bids on the new ferries that met specifications, three were British.

"If bids with British engines are not acceptable then one bidder is left with a monopoly which eliminates fair competition and allows an unrestricted price structure," it says.

THREE REASONS

G. P. Clarke, of Fairbanks Morse, said there is perfectly reasonable explanation for the difference in his company's bids on the two sets of ferries. He cited three reasons:

1. His firm bid an extra $80,000 on the first two ships because it understood heavy duty fluid couplings were required; when lighter couplings proposed by Ruston and Hornsby were accepted, his firm cut its new bid accordingly.

2. After "severe criticism" from federal MPs, production at his firm's Kingston plant has been "streamlined" to cut costs.

3. In 1959 Fairbanks Morse made separate bids on two sets of engines; by bidding a lump sum for all engines this time it has further cut production estimates.

He said he did not know why Mr. Stanwyk had made his statement.

"He seems to be trying to influence the general public thinking in the wrong direction," said Mr. Clarke.

Pants Found on Beach Linked to Drownings

Burns Strengthen Boat Fire Theory

A pair of men's gabardine pants, believed to figure in the tragedy which wiped out a family of eight in Georgia Strait on Boxing Day, was washed ashore Monday at the foot of Fenn Road, Cordova Bay.

Saanich Police Chief Bert Pearson said the legs of the trousers were burned and missing buttons indicated they were torn off in a hurry.

It's believed the garment belonged to James Hendron who with his wife and six children went missing from their home on Stewart Island in the San Juans Dec. 28. They had set out for a nearby island in a 16-foot boat.

CAUSED PANIC

The burned pants reinforced speculation that the boat's motor caught fire, causing the family to panic.

Meanwhile, Chief Pearson said the body of a 14-month-old boy washed up on the shore at Margaret Bay, Gordon Head, has been positively identified as Jeffrey Hendron, youngest of the Hendron family.

The chief said he's received three affidavits from Seattle friends and relatives of the Hendrons who identified the child's clothing.

The affidavits were sent by John Hendron of Seattle, a grandfather.

KNITTED SWEATER

An aunt identified a sweater she knitted, and a grandmother a snowsuit she bought for Jeffrey.

Playmates of the Hendron children also recognized the clothing.

The relatives have accepted the body for burial in Seattle.

4,000 Homes Without Water As Main Breaks

Water supply to 4,000 Saanich homes in the Mount Douglas-Quadra area dwindled then trickled to nothing as early risers prepared for the day.

For 45 minutes they were faced with the prospect of washing, brushing teeth, showering, making coffee and doing the dishes—without water—after a 12-inch high-pressure main gave out at Blenkinsop and Mount Douglas Cross Road.

ROAD DAMAGE

While thousands of gallons of water gushed into roadside ditches from six feet below ground, sluiced over the pavement and began eroding the street, householders were squeezing their tea kettles for enough water to gargle.

For a while people like dairyman John Pendray, 4160 Blenkinsop, were worried that lack of water would hurt the operation, since it plays an important role in cooling milk for shipment to the bulk buyer.

Waterworks department first started getting calls at 6.45 complaining of low water pressure.

RESTORED IN HOUR

By 7.45, workmen had diverted the main and restored service.

The repair job was expected to take all day.

A municipal engineering department spokesman said the ground where the main lies is of a soft nature and could have caused the line to settle, breaking a flexible coupling.

Heavy truck traffic over the road recently may have aggravated the situation, he said.

MORE EVIDENCE of tragedy? Const. Ted Owens holds burned pair of slacks which washed ashore here Monday.

Manager Treed, Alderman Freed

A move to clip the wings of city hall committees gained ready approval from aldermen themselves today.

It will set up the city manager's office as a screening and clearing house for deciding which problems are handled by committee, by city council or by the hired staff.

"B" group of committees—covering works and parks—made the first move in this direction after it sat down to a 43-item agenda this morning and found itself devoting more than 20 minutes to discussing three trees.

The committee members recommended that city council take jurisdiction for removing and planting trees on city streets out of their hands entirely and put it into the hands of city manager C. C. Wyatt.

TREE-CUTTING

The action grew out of a provincial government request for cutting down three trees on the Burdett side of the new Law Courts Building.

Parks administrator W. H. Warren, who said one of the 35-foot trees had to come out because it was so badly damaged during the construction phase, opposed granting permission for all three to be taken out.

He found ready support from several aldermen except parks chairman Ald. M. H. Mooney who said the trees had to be removed to facilitate construction of a sidewalk ramp to the courthouse.

He added the government promised to put in new and smaller trees.

Ald. Geoffrey Edgewood retorted: "Trees beautify that area. I don't like the court building anyway and to take those trees out is just going to make it look plainer than it already is."

Committee decided to view the trees personally before making a decision.

But at the close of considerable discussion on the trees, Ald. Michael Griffin made his surprise motion to throw the whole jurisdiction over street trees onto Mr. Wyatt's lap.

"We've been discussing a few trees here for half an hour and all we ever do is lean on the advice of our professional advisers anyway," he said.

"So why should we hand the whole thing right over

'Postcard Lobby' on Stamps

Victoria shoppers who favor trading stamp plans will find it easy to voice their opinion with a "postcard-lobby" campaign due to get underway in the next day or so.

An official of Super-Valu stores, one of the grocery chains that have re-introduced trading stamps in B.C., said today customers would be provided with postcards addressed to Attorney-General Robert Bonner supporting use of trading stamp plans. Customers who sign the cards will be provided with postage stamps to mail them.

The campaign was started in Vancouver Monday when Super-Valu stores there made available cards opposing any attempt to deny trading stamps as "undemocratic and unconstitutional."

MISS E. M. ORDWAY 'vicious circle' to get together and pressure Ottawa."

What does she think of the recent upsurge in stamps in British Columbia?

'INFESTED'

"It is regrettable but you should consider yourselves one of the lucky provinces to have been able to keep them out this long. Back East we're infested with them."

It was Miss Ordway's department that "went to battle stations" in the recent war against the sale of contaminated meat in Eastern Canada.

"The national meeting of the Consumers' Association of Canada urged that we do something about the sale of meat from diseased animals."

'UNDER COVER'

"My department went under cover for this one and late last December, with the help of the Royal Canadian Mounted Police, the whole thing broke."

As in the case of trading stamps, Miss Ordway urges that provincial governments get together and descend on the federal authorities for concerted action.

"We are making investigations in B.C. and so far we find that 80 per cent of the meat sold measures up to the requirements. It's the other 20 per cent that we're after."

CD Courses For Officials Of 26 Areas

Representatives of 26 B.C. municipalities will attend the first of four new courses on civil defence, which the provincial government is launching Jan. 22.

The courses—up to last four days—will be held at the provincial CD training centre on Keating Cross Road.

They are the first of their kind in Canada, said a B.C. official.

Representing the Greater Victoria area will be Saanich Reeve Stanley Murphy, his civil defence officer D. W. R. Smith; Duncan Mayor J. Dobson and civil defence officers E. C. Bolin and J. Sanders; and North Cowichan Councilor R. Clegg with civil defence officer J. N. D. Thurston.

Other Island officials will come from Port Alberni, Campbell River and Alert Bay.

LATER COURSES

Representatives from Victoria, Oak Bay and Esquimalt will attend one of the three other courses to be held later this year.

Provincial and municipal officials will discuss joint civil defence problems, attend lectures and participate in exercises during the courses.

Directing the course is J. F. A. Lister, provincial civil defence co-ordinator.

ASK The TIMES

Q. When it is 5 p.m. in Edinburgh, Scotland, I would be grateful if you would tell me the exact time it would be in Victoria, B.C., Canada. M. F. A. Victoria, eight hours ahead of Greenwich Mean Time. Therefore, when it is 5 p.m. in Edinburgh, it would be 9 a.m. here.

Q. What grounds must a person produce to be granted a divorce in B.C.? M. S. A. In Canada only adultery is ground for divorce.

Q. With reference to a question to "Ask the Times" on Monday: wasn't J. S. "slightly" off the mark in saying there are 25 billion people living in the world today? L. G. A. This was a typographical error. The question should have read 2.5 billion.

Q. What is the difference between a question and an answer to "Ask the Times"? Editor, Question, and answer will be published daily. An answer should deal with matters of fact and be of general interest. The Times does not undertake to act as a legal or medical adviser. No attempt to put a value on commodities or antiques. These should be submitted to a dealer.

TWO NEW FERRIES FOR NANAIMO RUN

Call Tenders In Mid-Summer

VANCOUVER (CP)—Premier Bennett announced today that two new ferries will be built for his enlarging coastwise fleet.

He said tenders will be called in mid-summer and the ships should be built in 1963.

The new ships would be used on the Vancouver-Nanaimo run, the third and fourth ships to be built by the government for the Black Ball ferry service which the government only recently took over.

The new ferries will bring to 17 the number of vessels in the government's coastwise fleet, and Premier Bennett said they will give the province "the best coastwise fleet anywhere."

The premier, here to launch the new ferry City of Vancouver, said at a press reception after the launching that two vessels now on the Vancouver-Nanaimo run will be diverted to runs to the Gulf Islands and to Sechart when the new ferries are added in 1963.

Indonesia Threatens Revenge

JAKARTA (Reuters) — Indonesia vowed today to avenge the sinking of a motor torpedo boat by The Netherlands Monday night "on the high seas."

The vessel went to the bottom in an hour-long engagement between Indonesian and Dutch navy ships off the south coast of Indonesian-claimed, Dutch-ruled West New Guinea.

The naval engagement appeared today to have set back considerably chances for a negotiated settlement of Indonesia's claim to the island territory.

Indonesia said it now would be extremely difficult to bring about talks to negotiate the issue.

The Netherlands reiterated it was ready to negotiate unconditionally but announced it would beef up its forces and repel any further "unprovoked attack" by Indonesia, which has vowed to "liberate" West New Guinea.

An official Indonesian statement said: "The Indonesian government will immediately take measures to avenge these Dutch assaults."

ATTACK AT SEA?

Maj. Gen. Aani, a member of the operations staff for West Irian — the Indonesian name for West New Guinea — said the torpedo vessels were patrolling the high seas around the Indonesian-owned Aru Islands, which lie between West New Guinea and Australia, when attacked by a Dutch destroyer, frigate and planes.

Aani denied Dutch claims that the torpedo boat squadron was attempting an invasion of the disputed territory. If the Indonesians were attacking, he said, they would have used ships larger than torpedo boats.

Aani said Indonesia would step up sea and air patrols around West New Guinea.

The Dutch navy said in a statement that survivors and material picked up from the boat that was sunk indicated the vessel intended to put landing forces ashore.

IN AUSTRALIA

125 Men Trapped By Fire

MELBOURNE (Reuters) — Some 125 firefighters were reported trapped today as Australian forest fires raged out of control in an arc of 100 miles north and northeast of here.

One group of 100 was trapped at Christmas Hill, near the vacation resort of Healesville, and 25 at Halamora, a town whose inhabitants were evacuated Monday night.

Earlier today, four persons — a man, a woman and two children — were found burned to death at a roadside in the blaze area.

The fires, racing before a 50-mile-an-hour wind, were sweeping across hillsides north of Mount Dandenong, 30 miles east of here. Police evacuated the villages of Woerri Yallock and Launching Place in their path.

All available firefighting equipment was rushed to the area where police reports said dense clouds of smoke blotted out the sun.

At least 48 houses have been destroyed in the fires which have been burning for 48 hours.

Missionaries Slain in Congo

(Times News Services)

LEOPOLDVILLE—Congo Premier Cyrille Adoula said today he had received reports that 11 white missionaries and seven African Roman Catholic nuns had been massacred by troops loyal to Stanleyville strongman Antoine Gizenga.

Adoula also announced that he had fired Gizenga as vice-premier of the central Congo government.

Bizerte Talks Open

PARIS (Reuters) — French and Tunisian delegations began discussions here today on the future of the French naval and air base at Bizerte.

At a news conference held in Brussels ECM headquarters immediately after the four-day talks ended, it was pointed out that the agricultural part of the deal was "perhaps the most difficult, but also the most important."

It was stressed that negotiations on tariff cuts under GATT regulations with the United States were the most important from the ECM point of view, as the United States is the most prominent big trading partner of the Common Market.

The negotiations covered an enormous mass of products which play a role of paramount importance in the economic life of the two parties," the spokesman said.

"If we had not reached this agreement the consequences would have been disastrous," he added.

In Ottawa, Finance Minister Fleming reserved detailed comment until he studies the agreement in detail, but he said Canada may benefit directly.
